Always Ready for Germans

Men and guns like these have been driving off German planes which endeavor to bomb England's east coast. Grimly determined to halt any invasion of Britain, her defenders are on guard day and night. The air attack on May 25 on a 245-mile coastline found all defence units on the alert. The bombs injured 11 men and a girl but caused little material damage.

Queen Shows Her Subjects How to Smile in Face of Fears

Everywhere in England, the army, air force, volunteer defence corps and private citizens are marshalling to meet any attempted invasion from the air by German forces. Not since 1066 has the "little island" been invaded, seldom before has it been so strongly threatened.

Gets Twenty Nazi Planes

Waging practically a one-man personal war against the German air force in Belgium and France, this young New Zealander, Royal Air Force Pilot Edgar (Cobber) Kain has brought down no less than 20 Nazi planes to date. Single-handed, Pilot Kain recently tackled a group of Heinkel bombers over France. He shot down two and was ready to call it a day until attacked by six Messerschmitts. Then he bagged two of the Messerschmitts and high-tailed it for home. He is shown loading up his ammunition belts here.

Final Bulletins BRITISH TROOPS SUCCEED AT AIRE

PARIS (AP)—The French high command communique to night stated:

"In the north, German attacks were executed against the Belgian army—front—between the North Sea and the region of Menin, and British troops attacked with success against an enemy superior in numbers in the region of Aire (nine miles south of St. Omer) on the Lys River.

"On the Somme (River) local actions were conducted brilliantly by our troops supported efficiently by aviation.

"East of the Aisne (River) the enemy attacked with insistence. Artillery and infantry combats began last night were prolonged during a great part of the day.

"They cost the enemy dearly and we maintained our positions."

BELGIANS FIGHT ON

PARIS (AP)—Premier Hubert Pierlot of Belgium announced to night after meeting with his government had decided to continue fighting Germany with the Allies.

The Premier said Belgium would triumph sooner or later and remain faithful to her cause.

Wounded Bombed

LONDON (CP)—Reports from Belgium received in London to night said Ostend hotels used as hospitals had been bombed by the Germans. There were no details.

GIVAN 5 UP

VANCOUVER (CP)—Harry Givan of Seattle set a blazing pace today, to reach the halfway mark in the British Columbia amateur golf championship final, 3 up on his fellow townsman, Gerry Bert.

Bert was able to reduce by only one hole the 6-up lead which Givan, former Walker Cup star, took in the first nine of the 36-hole final.

Bar on Cotton

LONDON (CP)—The Board of Trade tonight prohibited import of cotton from the United States and other non-Allied countries except under license in a new move to conserve foreign currency and shipping space for war requirements.

Curfew at Gibraltar

GIBRALTAR (CP)—Officials announced tonight that, starting tomorrow, a curfew will prohibit anyone except soldiers and sailors in uniform to be out of doors between 11.30 p.m. and 5.30 a.m. without written permits.

War Effort Speeded

Canada to Expand Army and Air Force

OTTAWA (CP)—Immediate expansion of the military and air forces in Canada as emergency measures to meet the critical situation which has developed and is developing in Europe, was announced in the House of Commons this afternoon by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

The Conservative opposition joined in cheers of government supporters as the Prime Minister followed by Hon. Norman Rogers, Minister of National Defence, and Hon. C. G. Power, Minister for Air, gave details of proposed heavy increases in the army and air force, including a veterans' reserve, in addition to the veterans' home guard, announced last week.

Nucleus Called For 4th Division

Rifle battalions for a 4th division of the Canadian Active Service Force will be recruited, it was announced, and some 5,000 Canadians whose names are already on Royal Canadian Air Force application lists will be called up for immediate duty, as well as reserves for the Veterans' Home Guard.

Mr. Rogers said officer veterans of the first Great War would be attached to military district commands together with veteran non-commissioned officers, and that "refresher" training courses for veteran officers would be established.

The defence minister said the actual number of men to be added to the military establishment could not as yet be determined. Mr. Power warned prospective recruits under the air force expansion move that all would not be used immediately for air force duties, but might be assigned to guard duty and to fulfil some of the functions of regular infantry units.

Full Pay Basis Soon as Possible

The air minister also said that those called up for service could not expect to receive immediately the emoluments that the regulations provided for their trade, and suggested they be patient on the assurance they would be assigned to regular air force duty and proper pay as rapidly as possible.

Expansion of the air force to include the new recruits had been decided on rather than have "thousands of our young men kicking their heels" in idleness. The new recruits skilled in certain trades but unemployed, together with certain unskilled classes, would be summoned immediately. Skilled tradesmen in essential industry would be requested to remain at their jobs for the time being, but would be issued special badges showing they had offered their services and would be called up as needed. Recruiting of new rifle battalions, said the Defence Minister, would be in addition to recruiting for the 3rd Division of the C.A.S.F. The expansion, he said, would include all the rifle battalions of a 4th Division. It was necessary to consider all possible eventualities, the Prime Minister said. The proposed expansion would need the co-operation of all the people,

Germans Drawing Relief in B.C.

British Columbia is giving public unemployment relief to several hundred nationals of belligerent countries, according to the provincial unemployment branch records.

Some are naturalized Canadians but others retain the nationality of their birth places.

Latest records on nationality cover the month of last October but the situation has not materially changed since, officials said.

In that month there were 215 German heads of families and single persons receiving assistance. These included 149 who have been naturalized and 66 who are not naturalized.

Austrians getting assistance totaled 326, of whom 206 were naturalized and 120 unnaturalized.

In all the province had 5,344 nationals and ex-nationals of foreign countries drawing relief. This was approximately one-quarter of the total relief list, but more than 3,000 of them were naturalized Canadians. The bulk are from the United States, Norway and China.

Japan Fliers Kill 310

CHUNGKING, China (AP)—Japanese warplanes, raiding Chungking for the second successive day, killed 60 persons and wounded 150 others in suburbs of the Chinese provisional capital today.

Simultaneously, the Japanese bombed three points west of Chungking in an aerial assault reported to have been participated in by 98 planes. Casualties were not reported.

Foreign sources placed the toll of the raid about Chungking yesterday at 250 dead.

notably labor and industry, which would have to work night and day to provide equipment. Conservative opposition members thumped on their desks in approval along with government supporters. "Allow me to congratulate the government in getting into action at last," said Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative leader. He recalled he had said last week it would "take some major disaster" to get the government to move, but he was sure that "entire country" would be behind the Prime Minister in his present plans.

VICTORIA MOTION BEFORE OTTAWA

Special to the Times
OTTAWA — Prime Minister Mackenzie King and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., today received from Major T. R. Wheadon, chairman, the telegraphed resolutions passed at a mass meeting in Beacon Hill Park yesterday demanding a speed-up of Canada's war effort and full use of the nation's manpower.

Other resolutions to the same effect were received from the Oak Bay Conservative Association, Chamber of Commerce and from the Rotary Club which stressed urgency of increasing production of pilots from Canada.

From Dr. Alton Peabees there came to Mr. Mayhew and Alan Chambers, M.P., Nanaimo, a telegram urging immediate introduction of compulsory military service and that the Dominion government should by "sweeping legislation" assume full power over individuals, industries and resources similar to that taken last week by the British government.

The Prime Minister and the members welcomed the Victoria telegrams as fortifying the government in taking the strongest action.

Air Recruiting Here

OTTAWA—Steps to have a recruiting office of the Royal Canadian Air Force opened in Victoria have been taken by R. W. Mayhew, M.P., in connection with the air training speed-up. Mr. Mayhew said he had hopes opening of a Victoria office would be announced soon.

Turner Promoted

Lieut.-Col. G. R. Turner of Victoria, G.S.O. (1) at headquarters of the 1st Division, has been promoted to the rank of colonel, according to word received here today. The promotion was announced by Defence Minister Rogers in Ottawa.

Allies on Victory March in Month, Says Weygand

NEW YORK (CP)—The Allied military situation is improving "faster and better than anyone could have imagined earlier in the week," General Maximie Weygand, commander-in-chief of the Allied armies, declared in a message broadcast from Paris early today.

As read over a Paris radio station and heard here by the National Broadcasting Company, the message said:

"In a month France will be on the march to victory. Tonight we feel that this one month might well be cut down to a fortnight. Yet, in any case the military situation is improving faster and better than anyone could have imagined earlier in the week."

"The Allies are going through a period of holding the Germans at any cost and readjusting their troops and their lines in the situation forced by the great German breakthrough. Gigantic work has been done in this direction, and the French, all of them, with their commander-in-chief, are convinced that they and their allies will not have to wait long for their chance to come. There is something in the air in Paris now—it is something big."

"Along the Maginot Line, the German command tried to cut through the Maginot forts, feeling out the actual strength of the line. After several hours of artillery fire, the German sentries swarmed out of the Siegfried Line to attack."

"Wave after wave came over. It was not a battle; it was a massacre. Eye-witnesses estimated the number of German dead and wounded outside the Maginot Line was at least 25,000."

OUTSIDERS MAY BE CABINET MINISTERS

Special to the Times
OTTAWA—Premier King will shortly have two portfolios open and a chance to reorganize his government to meet the newly developed war situation.

That Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, will be moved entirely into the supply department to manage the economic side of the national war effort is now regarded as certain. This will leave the transport department open and the post office department is already vacant.

There is widespread hope here that Mr. King will seize the opportunity to broaden the base of his government and make it more truly national in character by including two outsiders, perhaps leading businessmen who could bring organizing ability into the ministry, and an entirely non-partisan attitude.

Germans Suffer Enormous Losses

PARIS (AP)—The French, driving to cut off the German corridor to the English Channel, reported they had occupied "several villages and other points" on the Somme, south of the German salient, today.

A war ministry spokesman said, however, that the Germans had made progress in Flanders north of their salient, and had succeeded in crossing the Lys River at several points.

The fate of Calais, on the Channel, still is in doubt. The fighting at the Lys is at the last ostensible standing between the enemy's Flanders armies and the Channel ports of Ostend and Zeebrugge.

They already had claimed possession of Ghent and Courtrai on this river, and the French announced today a withdrawal to prepared positions to the north of the German salient in northern France in order to keep from being caught in a trap.

This withdrawal was carried out under the violence of a Nazi assault which rivalled the worst of Verdun in the last war.

Enemy Leaders Not Counting Losses

Apparently without regard to losses, the German commanders threw into the drive the old infantry and artillery as well as the new dive bombers and armored columns.

The French last night withdrew to new positions in the Valenciennes sector to straighten their lines while the Germans pitted men and material against the Allied armies around Menin in Belgium.

The battle continued today, with the Allies reported checking the German offensive on the new front.

The Nazi drive, aimed southward along the Lys River Valley, was centred on Menin, 35 miles northwest of Valenciennes, on the French-Belgian frontier.

It appeared the Germans were attempting to cut the Allied army of the north in two by hammering through their lines to make connection with their forces in northwestern France, which the high command yesterday acknowledged had captured the Channel port of Boulogne.

If the Germans could succeed in making connections they would have succeeded in encircling the Allied troops now fighting between Cambrai and the Belgian border.

The other half of the Allied army of the north would be backed up against the Channel.

The French high command said the Allies "were standing" their ground in the Meuse region, in fighting "of extreme violence."

Allies Gain on Somme, Flanders Battle Sways

PARIS (AP)—The French, driving to cut off the German corridor to the English Channel, reported they had occupied "several villages and other points" on the Somme, south of the German salient, today.

A war ministry spokesman said the Allied withdrawal in the Valenciennes sector was because the positions were "too far out in front."

Nazis Risk All on Attempt

At present, a military commentator emphasized, Allied troops are now engaged in "a great defensive battle," the results of which are still undetermined, but he declared the Germans' complete disregard for losses in men and material has weakened their hand.

Heavy fighting was reported along the channel in northern France as the Germans attempted to push on up the coast after the capture of Boulogne. The old Boulogne citadel, where a small French garrison continued to resist long after the city had fallen, finally was captured by the Germans.

British troops who assisted in defending the channel port were said to be withdrawing northward along the coast toward Calais.

In an effort to strengthen their forces along the channel, tired after 17 days of continuous fighting, the Germans were reported to be rushing fresh troops from the Swiss border and the West wall through the narrow gap in the Allied lines north of the Somme.

Allies' Big Guns Sweep Corridor

The French declared the corridor was being raked by Allied artillery and bombed without rest, and the Germans were paying a terrific price to keep the breach open.

North of the corridor, Allied forces, although slowly withdrawing from Belgium, military spokesmen said, were giving the Germans so much trouble that they could not concentrate on their operations in northern France.

General Maximie Weygand, the Allied commander-in-chief, was reported to have flown over the northern armies yesterday to study their position and later landed to confer with their leaders.

Military sources said these troops were being kept well supplied through Zeebrugge and channel ports farther south.

They also minimized the danger that the Allied forces in Belgium might be attacked from the rear by German troops separating them from the French armies along the Somme.

British Forces Counter-attack

LONDON (CP)—A War Office communique tonight said the Germans during the day "violently attacked" French and Belgian forces on the flanks of the British Expeditionary Force, and that British infantry counter-attacked successfully in co-operation with French tanks.

"In Belgium British forces have fought side by side with the Belgian army, meeting attacks of strong enemy forces," the communique said.

"The British front remains intact."

"There has been heavy bombing of the rear areas. Anti-aircraft guns and light automatics shot down a number of enemy planes."

Naval guns pounded the Nazi columns pressing into the Channel port, 22 miles from the chalk cliffs of Dover, while the Allied land troops met the advance units in street fighting and the Royal Air Force hammered German air-dromes and communications.

R.A.F. Squadrons Score Many Hits

An Air Ministry communique tonight said:

"Last night bomber aircraft of the R.A.F. attacked air-dromes in the hands of the enemy, including those at Flushing, Brussels and Antwerp."

"Today bombing operations have been carried out against various objectives in Flanders."

"So far all our aircraft have returned safely."

"Preliminary reports show 28 enemy aircraft have been destroyed or seriously damaged by our fighters today. One patrol of Defiants shot down five enemy bombers. Five of our fighters are reported missing."

Line of Bombs Across Airport

An elaboration of the statement said the objectives bombed included Venlo, on the Dutch-German border, and Charleroi, France, in German-held territory on the French-Belgian border.

"During the attack on Antwerp the British airmen were said to have laid a 'line of high explosive bombs' across one end of the nearby Deurne airport."

"The Air Ministry said a railway bridge over the Belgian main line was believed destroyed and a convoy of 24 vehicles struck by two heavy bombs, the burst of which were followed by two explosions."

"The surrounding country for several miles around was lit up" by these hits, it said.

Dill Heads British Staff

'Men in Right Places' Press Says of Changes

LONDON (CP)—The press gave approval today to the changes in the British high command which made Gen. Sir John Dill chief of the Imperial General Staff, replacing Gen. Sir Edmund Ironside, who became commander-in-chief of the home defences.

The Express commentator said Gen. Ironside's transfer "means the battlefield is moving toward Britain," and the man who revitalized the Gibraltar defences "must now turn the whole British Islands into another Rock of Gibraltar."

The paper's lengthy editorial said the move was not concerned with events across the Channel, because Gen. Viscount Gort, commander of the British forces in the field, is under command of Gen. Weygand rather than the chief of the Imperial General Staff.

The Times of London was non-committal about the changes, referring to them in one paragraph of an editorial on the general situation. It said Gen. Dill was the "inevitable choice if changes were considered desirable." And Gen. Ironside's new task also is one of extreme difficulty and responsibility.

WORK ON HOME FRONT

Recall of Gen. Ironside to take command of home defences was explained as a move in line with general action to consolidate the home front against the threat of invasion.

Other home defence moves included a government announcement declaring at least 14 additional towns along the English southeast coast to be "evacuation areas." Preparations were made to move children to safer places.

Viscount Gort remains commander of the British Expeditionary Force, but will operate under the man who a few months ago was one of his corps commanders.

Gen. Ironside, 60, a 250-pound giant of a man, who years ago served in the German army as a British agent, replaces Gen. Sir Walter Kirke, who has retired.

Technically it may be a demotion for Gen. Ironside, or "Big Bill" as the troops call him, but the government decided his organizing ability and technical qualifications were needed for the defence of this country.

Already he has a volunteer army of 400,000 men under his command, while every day sees more defensive positions being built, roads and open spaces patrolled and strategic points guarded.

There has been nothing like this in England since the days of Napoleon.

DISTINGUISHED CAREER

Born in Belfast 58 years ago on Christmas Day, General Dill studied at Cheltenham College and at Sandhurst and entered the army in 1901. While serving against the Boers in South Africa, he won the Queen's Medal with five clasps.

He is a tall, well-made man, with trim moustache and smiling eyes. Fellow officers have described him as one of the most brilliant men in the British army and a master strategist.

4,000,000 FACE FINGERPRINTING

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate judiciary committee today approved legislation to require fingerprinting of aliens in the United States, estimated to total 4,000,000, and to impose severe penalties for "fifth column" activities.

The Senate voted today to prohibit employers engaged in interstate commerce from hiring more than 10 per cent alien workers, aside from those who have filed their declaration of intention to become citizens.

The House of Representatives adopted a resolution to give quick effect to President Roosevelt's transfer of the immigration service to the justice department as a means of gaining "more effective control over aliens."

CANADIANS INVOLVED

OTTAWA (CP)—Officials of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimated that about 300,000 Canadians living in the United States would be affected by the bill to register all aliens in the United States.

Under the proposed legislation, Canadians would probably be given four months in which to report to their local postmasters for registration. (U.S. estimates are 600,000 Canadians.)

Support France

BELFORT, France (CP-Havas)—Italian war veterans living in this border region of France voted to support the French cause against Germany and expressed hope Italy will stay out of the war.

Organizations of Italian veterans from Belfort, Montbeliard, Audincourt and Hericourt passed a resolution which said:

"We declare ourselves ready to fight against the German aggressor by the side of old comrades-in-arms, the French, as we did once before."

Stop Hearing Enemy

ALEXANDRIA (AP)—The Egyptian Gazette gave some editorial advice to its readers on the subject of radio broadcasts today.

"Every minute you spend listening to enemy broadcasts is a minute spent in the service of Hitler," it said, adding that listening is "reasonable in effect if not intent."

British Families Leave Italy As War Talk Heard

ROME (AP)—British nationals who called at the British embassy here for advice about leaving Italy were told today they had better go unless they had urgent reasons for remaining, especially if they had families in this country.

The British embassy has not tendered this advice to the British colony generally, however.

Italy today appeared to be speeding along the road to war despite British hopes of mollifying Italian bitterness against the Allied blockade.

British authorities asserted Italy had proposed "a very satisfactory basis" for a contraband agreement, but this brought no immediate sign of relaxation of preparation of the Italian military machine or dimming of the popular spirit for intervention.

Most Italians believed any relaxation of the contraband control would fall far short of meeting Fascist "aspirations" for territorial and other concessions so long as the British held the keys to Gibraltar and the Suez Canal, the two gateways to the Mediterranean which Italians call "Mare Nostrum" (Our Sea).

CIANO HOME

Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano returned yesterday from a tour of Albania—conquered and annexed by Italy in April, 1939—in which he received pledges of Albanian support in any Italian war effort.

The British announcement that Italy had proposed "a very satisfactory basis" for a contraband agreement came as Sir Wilfrid Greene, British economic expert, left Rome after conducting negotiations regarding the contraband control and trade questions.

Foreign observers said they were puzzled by the announcement, because they had been given to understand that Mussolini had rejected both British and French offers as being "too little and too late."

PLEDGE WANTED

The British were reported to have been ready in effect to lift the contraband control to permit large supplies of raw materials to reach Italy in return for an Italian promise to prevent them from reaching Germany.

Some observers wondered whether Italy would accept an end to control in the Mediterranean as meaning an end to her Mediterranean "imprisonment"—something she has insisted must be terminated.

The question also was raised whether the war preparations of the last few weeks constituted a temporary crisis which now would disappear.

Foreign circles, however, were skeptical over the possibility of a lasting understanding between Rome and London as the Italian press was predicting a German attack on the British Isles and collapse of the British and French Empires.

JUNE 7 MENTIONED

PARIS (CP)—Havas News Agency dispatches from Rome said "it was freely predicted" in the Italian capital Italy will enter the war "on or about June 7."

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Papal authorities indicated Pope Pius XII is convinced Italy is going to war, but that he refuses to leave Vatican City or consider using the air raid shelter provided especially for him.

MUST GO ALL OUT IN WAR—GREEN

MONTREAL (CP)—Howard C. Green, Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver South, told the Canadian Legion convention here today Canada "must go all out in her war effort."

Speaking for Hon. R. B. Hanson, Mr. Green delivered the following message from the Conservative House leader:

"Please give my clarion call to all loyal and true men to come to the aid of Canada and the Empire at this most critical time."

In his brief address, Mr. Green said "now was the time for Canada to 'play her part' in the war. Ex-servicemen could do a great deal toward helping the war effort."

"The Legion must and can show leadership at this time," he said. "Make no mistake about it, we have a fight on our hands right here at home."

Robbers Take $700

VANCOUVER (CP)—Burglars who broke into Purdy's cafe here last night blew open the safe and escaped with $700 and a quantity of jewelry.

The dial was hammered off the safe of Chess Brothers Limited in another break-in and entering, but the thieves were unable to open the strong box. They fled without obtaining anything.

As Nazi Drive Nears England

The shades of Germany's armed might sweep lengthening shadows across France and Belgium as Nazi drive captured Boulogne and now is making supreme effort to capture Calais, a mere 23 miles across Strait of Dover from England.

Leader Escapes Attacks

Weygand Energy Inspires Troops

PARIS (CP-Havas)—The Paris Soir today told how the Allied commander-in-chief, Gen. Maxime Weygand, during his first 24 hours in command toured the fighting fronts by plane, train, car and warship to reorganize defence against the German blitzkrieg.

The energetic French leader, the paper disclosed, conferred close behind the front with King Leopold of the Belgians and with commanders of Allied troops in action. He personally visited points where the Germans were launching their most furious assaults and was involved in an air battle while traveling by plane and was bombed while at sea.

"Just a week ago, on May 20," the Paris Soir said, "Weygand took over as commander-in-chief of the Allied armies. On the next day he visited the fighting fronts. At 8:40 a.m. he took off from Le Bourget (airfield) aboard a bombing plane with an ordnance officer. A liaison officer followed in another plane. A patrol of six Morane pursuit planes protected them."

"The two planes came under violent fire from German anti-aircraft guns. Soon afterward, they were attacked by a patrol of Messerschmitts. But the Moranes deployed and forced the enemy to flee. Then they landed at a northern airfield and the general, while waiting for the authorities who were to meet him, entered an inn and ordered an omelette and a cup of coffee."

Cease Purchase Of Metal Badges

OTTAWA (CP)—In view of the fact that nonmilitarized units of the nonpermanent militia will be provided with serge or denim battle dress, no further provision for any further supply of collar badges or metal shoulder badges for issue to these units will be made, the Department of National Defence announced today.

Collar badges are not worn on the battle dress blouse, but exist as required, for wearing on service dress jackets. Issue of existing stocks of metal shoulder badges will be made for wear on greatcoats or cloaks.

Dollar-a-year Men

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States preparedness program has prompted scores of business and industrial leaders to proffer their services to the government as "dollar a year" men. A handful may be included among the civilian advisers whom President Roosevelt contemplated naming to supplement the work of war, navy, treasury and other officials concerned with the expansion of land, sea and air forces.

Canadian Prisoner

LONDON (CP)—Pilot Officer Howard Douglas Wardle of Walkerville, Ont., was among 15 British prisoners of war named by the German radio heard in London last night.

Still Living Dutch Declare

J. Reilly O'Sullivan, who was chief of the Associated Press bureau at Amsterdam at the time of the German invasion and who is now in Berlin, has sent the following dispatch.)

BERLIN (AP)—Hollanders have adopted a new greeting since the German occupation of the Netherlands:

"We are still living."

They say this a bit ruefully and with a note of apprehension as to the future, but it is characteristic of the average Hollander to bear adversity philosophically.

One owner of a chain of movie theatres in Rotterdam, for instance, refused to be downhearted. Though his home as well as his five theatres were destroyed by German bombs, he told me: "I hope to get along somehow."

TO REMOVE U.S. CITIZENS

When I left Holland George A. Gordon, United States minister at The Hague, still was seeking means to get several hundred Americans out of the country. Up to May 22, he had had no word from the State Department in eight days. He had been able to ascertain, however, that none of the Americans in Holland was injured during the five days of fighting.

In Rotterdam, which suffered most from the German attack, people still were being rescued from air raid shelters in the basements of wrecked buildings four days after the last bombardment.

Several children were born in Rotterdam air raid shelters, while at Tilburg, in southern Holland, a woman with a two-day-old baby spent four days in a shelter.

Gordon, when I left, was planning to stay at The Hague as long as possible. The American legation was handling the affairs of Great Britain, Canada, France, Belgium, and South Africa.

Asks Extra Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt asked Congress today to add $32,000,000 to the $5,000,000 already appropriated for the training of civilian air pilots during the fiscal year beginning June 30.

Montgomery to France

LONDON (CP)—Robert Montgomery, United States motion picture actor, was disclosed today to have joined the American field service as an ambulance driver. He is to leave Wednesday for France. Asked his reasons for joining the volunteer service, Montgomery, who has been in England since January, answered only with a grin.

"Since then he has returned several times to the battle fronts to see himself the spots where the enemy was launching assaults, to reach immediate decisions with the heads of the operating armics, to strengthen by his mere presence the confidence and ardor of the troops."

Good Response

OTTAWA (CP)—Sale of war savings certificates, launched today, "is encouraging and going very well," it was learned this afternoon. Campaign chairman in all provinces sent favorable reports to headquarters here.

New Staff Vice-chief

LONDON (CP)—Lieut. General R. H. Haining was appointed vice-chief of the Imperial General Staff today under General Sir John Dill in the reorganization of the high command.

Malta Ready

MALTA (CP-Reuters)—The governor of this important British naval base today ordered curfew from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m. effective tonight, as a defence precaution against parachute invasion. The public was warned violators of the curfew "would risk being shot."

The warnings emphasized the death penalty for treachery.

War Savings Plan Starts in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Across Canada, in chain stores, brokerage and investment offices, banks, post offices and insurance offices war saving certificates and war saving stamps went on sale today as the nation rallied her people of small means behind the war effort.

The Finance Minister, Hon. J. L. Ralston, and the Justice Minister, Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, launched the new financial venture last night in national broadcasts in which they appealed for support "to save the most precious life in the world—the life of liberty."

The stamps went on sale at 25 cents each and the certificates in denominations of $5, $10, $25, $50 and $100. They may be purchased at four-fifths of their face value and will fall due in 7½ years. Purchasers of the stamps, when they have 16, may turn them in for a $5 certificate.

So the greatest number of people possible may hold certificates the government has ruled that no one can buy more than $500 worth, face value, in any one year.

The Finance Minister, who hinted at such a move to rally Canada's small change behind the war effort when he thanked the public for their response to the $200,000,000 war loan last January, said the recent German successes had made the new financial appeal imperative.

The provincial committee directing the war savings campaign in British Columbia has Chris Spencer as its chairman. F. E. Winslow of Victoria is a member. The others are: Mrs. F. J. Rolston, A. L. Hager, H. N. MacCork, Indale, W. H. Malkin, W. G. Murrin, E. A. Jamieson and R. S. Platt, all of Vancouver; S. G. Blaylock, Trail, and R. J. Filberg, Comox.

Ex-Prince Wilhelm Killed in Battle

BERLIN (AP)—The death of Prince Wilhelm of Prussia from a wound while fighting in Flanders was announced today. He was the oldest son of former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm and the second Hohenzollern victim of the European war.

The other member of the House of Hohenzollern to die was Prince Oscar, cousin of Prince Wilhelm. Oscar fell on the Polish front.

Wilhelm received a heavy abdominal wound in fighting in Flanders May 23. He was hurried to a military hospital near Brussels, where he died Sunday morning after being decorated with the Iron Cross, first class.

An 80-foot blue whale would weigh 80 tons, the equivalent of 20 male African elephants, or of more than 1,000 men.

EX-MINISTER OF DEFENCE DIES

LATE HON. E. M. MACDONALD

PICTOU, N.S. (CP)—Arrangements were completed here today for the funeral of the late Hon. Edward Mortimer MacDonald, E.C., the former Liberal Minister of National Defence died Saturday at his home here in his 75th year.

The former cabinet member, Defence Minister from 1923 until 1926 under Prime Minister MacKenzie King, had been in ill health for some years. He retired from politics in 1926.

He sat in the Nova Scotia Legislative Assembly for Pictou County from 1897 until 1903. Then in 1904 he went to the House of Commons for Pictou and he remained in Parliament steadily until 1917.

He retired in that year, but emerged from private life in 1921 and again was elected to the Commons for Pictou. He was made Acting Minister of National Defence April 18, 1923, and full minister on August 18 of the same year.

In 1924 he was a Canadian representative at the League of Nations Assembly in Geneva. The following year, Antigonish-Guy-boro sent him to Parliament as its representative, and a year later he put public life on the advice of doctors.

Mr. MacDonald was born in Pictou, August 16, 1865. He was educated at Dalhousie University, Halifax, and was called to the bar of Nova Scotia in 1887. In later years, he came to be one of Nova Scotia's outstanding lawyers. He maintained an office in Pictou and was a member of a prominent Montreal firm.

Mr. MacDonald's marriage, in 1889, to Edith Lillian, daughter of Col. James Ives, united two of Pictou's prominent families.

During the last few years of his life Mr. MacDonald moved about with the aid of crutches and wheel-chairs. One of his legs, injured while he was on a fishing expedition in his native province, troubled him until it was necessary to have it amputated in 1931. Although he was 66 years of age at the time, he made a good recovery after the operation.

Mr. MacDonald is survived by Rev. Dr. F. M. MacDonald, United Church clergyman of Toronto; George W. and Charles Macdonald, sons of Pictou, brothers and Mrs. Fred Ross, Winnipeg, and Mrs. John C. MacMillan, sisters.

U.S. Hears Defence Call

Roosevelt Warns Of 'Trojan Horse'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt has warned the United States to be on guard against the "undiluted poison" of foreign forces which, he says, seek to disunite the people and to disrupt the preparedness program by creating dissension.

Reporting on the state of the country's defenses in a radio "fireside chat" yesterday evening, Mr. Roosevelt called on private industry for "the best, speediest and most efficient mass production of which it is capable" and offered governmental financial aid if it is needed.

He also appealed for contributions to the Red Cross so it may aid "millions of homeless" women, children and old men" who have fled the battle zones of Belgium and northern France. This he asked "in the name of our common humanity."

As for the country's present defenses, he disputed all contentions billions spent for that purpose had "gone down the rat-hole."

To help the administration direct the big industrial program involved in arming the country against any eventually, Mr. Roosevelt said, "patriotic Americans of proven merit and unquestioned ability in their special fields are coming to Washington to help the government with their training, experience and capability."

DEAL WITH SPIES

"Today's threat to our national security is not a matter of military weapons alone," he said. "We know of new methods of attack. The Trojan horse—the fifth column that betrays a nation unprepared for treachery. Spies, saboteurs and traitors are the actors in this new strategy. With all these we must deal vigorously."

He spoke of "a new technique" for weakening a nation, the spreading of discord and dissension, by exploiting sectional, racial or political prejudices, through false slogans and emotional appeals. By such tactics, he said, "foreign agents" cause sound national policies to be regarded with an unreasoning skepticism.

"As a result of these new techniques, armament programs may be dangerously delayed," he continued. "Smugness of national purpose may be undermined. Men can lose confidence in each other, and therefore in the efficacy of their own united action. Faith and courage yield to doubt and fear. The unity of the state is so sapped that its strength is destroyed."

"All this is no idle dream. It has happened time after time in nation after nation; during the last two years..."

"These dividing forces are un-GERMAN REPORT CLAIMS CALAIS"

BERLIN (AP)—The German high command's communique this forenoon said:

"In Flanders and Artois our troops continued their attacks and have further hemmed together encircled enemy armies. North of Menin an especially deep breach into the enemy front was made which brought us close to Ypres. As on previous days, strong air force units participated in the fighting in the west, facilitating the army's advance."

(The French high command announced the Allies were standing their ground in the Menin region in fighting of "extreme violence.")

"The severity of the attacks was most effectively centred on the region where the enemy armies are trapped. German troops attacked northeast of Lens and later attacked, with bloody losses for the enemy, counter-attacks by French colonial troops."

"As previously reported in a special announcement, Calais, which was encircled behind and in front, fell into our hands after hard fighting."

(Calais is still in Allied hands, notwithstanding German claims. It was announced in Paris.)

"At Boulogne, First Lieut. von Jaworski of an armored regiment, whose tank was a target for several enemy ships, set one destroyer on fire by gunfire."

diluted poison. They must not be allowed to spread in the new world as they have in the old."

DEFENCE STRENGTHENED

Giving some examples of what the country got for the money spent on national defence between 1933 and 1940, Mr. Roosevelt cited these figures:

"The fighting personnel of the navy rose from 79,000 to 145,000. During this period 215 ships for the fighting fleet have been laid down or commissioned."

"Of airplanes that work with the navy, in 1933 we had 1,127 useful aircraft and today we have 2,892 on hand and on order."

"The army of the United States in 1933 consisted of 122,000 enlisted men. In 1940 that has been practically doubled."

MANY PLANES PURCHASED

"Since 1933 we have actually purchased 5,640 airplanes, including the most modern type of long-range bombers and fast pursuit planes."

"In 1933 we had only 355 anti-aircraft guns. We now have more than 1,700 modern anti-aircraft guns of all types on hand or on order."

"In 1933 there were only 24 modern infantry mortars in the entire army. We now have on hand and on order more than 1,600."

"In 1933 we had only 48 modern tanks and armored cars. Today we have on hand and on order 1,700."

"In 1933 we had 1,263 army pilots. Today the army alone has more than 3,200 of the best fighting fliers in the world."

STANDARDS

Turning to the question of labor standards in the light of the defence program, he said the administration had carried on "an offensive on a broad front against social and economic inequalities and abuses which had made our society weak." That offensive, he added, "should not now be broken down by the pincers movement of those who would use the present needs of physical military defence to destroy it."

"The policy and the laws providing for collective bargaining are still in force. And labor will be adequately represented in Washington in this defence program."

"Also our present emergency and a common sense of decency make it imperative that no new group of war millionaires come into being in this nation as a result of the struggles abroad."

"And, finally, this emergency demands that the consumers of America be protected so that our general cost of living can be maintained at a reasonable level."

(There was no confirmation of this claim.)

"To frustrate attempts of the English to bring parts of their encircled troops across the Channel to England, the air force, again raided those ports on the Belgian-French Channel coast which are still in enemy hands. The port facilities of Dunkerque are burning."

(The British soldiers evacuated have been wounded ones. The Germans are known to have attacked hospital ships.)

"No special events on the southern front..."

"Enemy (airplane) losses yesterday amounted to 73 planes, of which 32 were shot down in air fights, 15 by anti-aircraft guns and the rest destroyed on the ground."

"Fifteen of our own planes are missing."

(The Air Ministry in London announced that over the week-end 60 German planes were either brought down or damaged. The R.A.F. lost less than a dozen machines.)

"The enemy, during the course of the night of May 26-27 continued aimless raids against non-military targets in western Germany without causing greater damage."

(These "nonmilitary targets" included gasoline and ammunition depots in the Rhineland, a troop train in the rear of the German army, two airdromes, a motor vehicle convoy and railway junctions and sidings.)

BRITAIN SENDS CRIPPS TO MOSCOW

LONDON (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Labor member of Parliament, is en route to Moscow on an economic mission.

The Soviet Union was reported today to have welcomed a proposal to send Sir Stafford and Russian circles here said chances for improved relations between the two countries now seem "quite favorable."

Sir Stafford, however, did not wait for the Foreign Office to complete formalities of protocol and already has begun the first leg of his journey to Moscow. He was there earlier this year on his way back from China and was said to have conferred with Josef Stalin.

Russian Ambassador Ivan Maisky talked over with Foreign Secretary Lord Halifax yesterday the proposal that Sir Stafford go to Moscow in connection with negotiations for a trade agreement.

It is understood the Russians desire Sir Stafford should be empowered to make decisions and take actions regarding details of such an agreement.

Observers see in the fact that Russia has not increased her demands in connection with proposed trade negotiations an indication the country may be able to get together.

Foreign Office circles said the reply from Moscow regarding the proposal to make Sir Stafford a special envoy were not "unfavorable," but added that certain formalities must be arranged before he can assume the post.

Nazis Shoot Mutineers

NEW YORK (AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation said in a German language announcement this morning that 300 Austrian soldiers with the German forces at Oslo, Norway, had mutinied and been immediately executed during the night. The program was picked up here by National Broadcasting Company.

Windbreaks in the plains are now planted not only to protect houses from cold north winds, but to protect crops from summer south winds.

Britain Intensifies Anti-rumor Campaign

LONDON (CP)—The Home Secretary today ordered internment on the Isle of Man of all German and Austrian women who previously had been under police restrictions.

Under the decree, all enemy alien women between the ages of 16 and 60 who have previously been in B category will be interned as well as men.

It was explained that the women can, if they wish, take children under 16 with them.

A gigantic police dragnet swept hundreds of women into custody in the early morning while censorship veiled the raids.

MANY AUTOS USED

"The great round-up started at 7.30 a.m. (10.30 last night, P.S.T.) Police cars, manned by more than 1,000 detectives, sped to the women's homes, waited while they hurriedly packed their luggage, and then took them to headquarters."

The action followed a decision of Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary and Minister for Home Security, to intern the alien women without re-examination by alien tribunals. Most of them were taken from the thickly-populated areas of south London.

Enemy alien women previously had been classed in category B, which placed them under minor restrictions. These forbade possession of automobiles, of cameras, as well as traveling more than five miles from home. Special police permission was required for changes of address.

MUCH CRITICISM

The decision followed widespread press criticism that enemy alien women should be regarded as potentially as dangerous as men.

On May 16, 3,000 German and Austrian men between the ages of 16 and 60 who previously had been in category B, were interned. Four days earlier male enemy aliens of the same age had been detained in the eastern half of the country and along the south coast.

It was estimated today that more than 6,000 aliens have now been detained. Many of those rounded up are domestic servants. There are still thousands of aliens in the country in category C—that is, exempt from any restrictions.

Germans Claim More Sinkings

BERLIN (AP)—This morning's communique from the German high command said:

"On the Narvik battlefields, mountain chasseurs were again landed yesterday by parachutes. An enemy airplane carrier which on May 24 already was heavily struck by a bomb in Ofotjord near Narvik was sunk May 25 off Harstad after having been hit anew by three bombs, one of which was the heaviest calibre as already announced."

"Furthermore we succeeded in sinking by bomb hits one merchant ship of 8,000 tons, besides hitting with heavy bombs, with apparent fires and explosion effects, one large warship, and two cruisers, as well as one transport of 18,000 tons."

(None of these claims has been confirmed.)

Now for the Dollars

VICTORIANS IN THEIR THOUSANDS yesterday went to Beacon Hill Park to let all the world know that they want this Canada of ours to go the limit in its war effort. It was an excellent and well-ordered demonstration; the feelings of the vast multitude were those of a people who understand the threat which hangs over the British Empire, who realize the role which this part of it has cast for itself, and who know that with this Dominion's resources tapped to the uttermost our contribution to the cause may well help to insure victory to a greater extent than is generally understood. We may be sure the government at Ottawa fully understands the will of the Canadian people, is naturally aware that the tragedy of the Low Countries and the implications of even partial Nazi domination of the Channel ports impose new obligations on all peoples who value the heritage of beneficent institutions; and that the tempo of this country's assistance must be accelerated accordingly.

So spoke the hearts and voices of Victorians yesterday—in the churches by their King's desire and in God's green pastures under the blue canopy of heaven—with one thought in their minds: victory over the oppressor. This must now be translated into dollars and cents. There is nothing spectacular in today's call. It is the reminder from the Dominion's Minister of Finance that fine phrases "butter no parsnips." It is another demand for money—money with which to buy the things our fighting men need to score the triumph that means the preservation of our liberty and our democratic way of life. Practically every Canadian can lend a hand. Twenty-five cents will buy a War Savings Stamp. This form of contribution to the country's war coffers also is available to everybody with $5, $10, $50 or $100 ready for a stronger battle against Hitler. And Canada will pay a trifle more than 3 per cent for the use of the money so loaned.

Our Dominion may not be fluent on propaganda. It has a penchant for doing things and saying little about them. But we can think of no better news to cheer our men overseas than the daily announcement that these War Savings Certificates are selling in sufficient volume to prove more emphatically than ever to the beast who presides over the Nazi hierarchy in Berlin that Canada is in this fight to see it through—and that an avalanche of dollars will gain momentum from day to day. So we say: Buy War Savings Stamps and Certificates to the fullest extent of your capacity.

Hopeful News

GENERAL WEYGAND SAID THIS MORNING that the Allied military situation was improving "faster and better than anyone could have imagined earlier in the week," and that "in a month France will be on the march to victory." This optimistic note from one on whom all the decent world is placing much reliance is a welcome refresher after two weeks of tragedy. While the brilliant commander of all the anti-Hitler forces naturally does not underestimate the strength and diabolical resourcefulness of the enemy, he notes that the period through which the Allies have gone is one of holding the Germans at any cost, of readjusting their troops and their lines to the situation caused by the Nazi breakthrough. Then he says:

"Gigantic work has been done in this direction, and the French, all of them, with their commander-in-chief, are convinced that they and their Allies will not have to wait long for their chance to come. There is something in the air in Paris now—it is something big."

The hopeful ring of General Weygand's statement will probably arouse the curiosity of most of us. We have had so many surprises from Germany of a hideous nature that the introduction of a new element from Paris—or anywhere, for that matter—will be more than welcome. Nor will anybody be particularly loud in protest if the Nazi High Command should be well dosed with some of its own medicine. We can think of many spots in Germany—particularly in the valleys of the Ruhr and the Wupper—where well-placed Allied bombs in large quantities might follow, with interest, those which the Royal Air Force already has dropped to such valuable advantage. But these are matters, of course, which are not determined by the hopes of the uninitiated 6,000 miles from the conflagration. It is for us to get what satisfaction we can from General Weygand's new verbal picture of conditions as he saw them on his flight over the fighting areas yesterday.

Tourists and More Tourists

AT EVERY PORT OF ENTRY INTO CANADA visitors from the United States are beginning what the Financial Post of Toronto describes as the "greatest trek in world history." We got a fair glimpse of it in Victoria on Friday. License plates of automobiles from many states of the Union were to be seen in the city and on their way to and from the several points of interest. The most impressive evidence of the influx, however, was at the Willows. Cars from North Carolina, Texas, Pennsylvania, Minnesota, Oregon, Washington and California and several other points south of the 49th parallel had brought holidaymakers to see Canada and Canadians at war.

While the Air Raids Precaution organization conducted its commendable display as a serious reminder to the people of this community of the grim realities of some phases of modern warfare—we need be surprised at nothing in this contracted world of mechanical speed and all that goes with it—it was without question an attraction for hundreds of visitors from the United States and proved immensely instructive and interesting to them as well as to our own people.

It ought not to be necessary to emphasize the fact that the tourist business, always important, is more vital to Canada at this stage of her history than ever before. One of our urgent requirements is American dollars with which to fight the war. No longer able to borrow funds from Washington, Canada, nevertheless, still can organize her people into a huge sales staff to sell our manifold attractions, our sports appeal, our scenery and our climate—all of which are permanent assets that can be sold and resold annually until the crack of doom. Here is further comment from the Toronto financial paper we have quoted:

"How are we going to be sure these American visitors will come in record-breaking numbers? How are we going to be sure Canadians do their part to discuss 'the issues at stake' when they arrive? How are we going to make sure that our cabins and facilities meet reasonable standards of comfort and cleanliness?"

"The federal government, each provincial government and scores of municipalities already have their own travel or tourist bureaus. Other interested agencies, the railways, oil companies, hotel and steamship firms are equally busy sowing the seed which they hope will bring rich harvest."

"What seems to be lacking is a nationwide co-ordinated effort to bring home to the man in the street, to community leaders, to service clubs, to employers and employees, to the local innkeepers and tourist camp proprietors the fact that the tourist business in 1940 is just as much a part of the country's war effort as the making of shells or growing of wheat."

The personal service which can enter into the tourist business may not be spectacular; it requires no great fanfare to make it pay dividends. All that is required of the average Canadian in this and other communities is a practical demonstration to the visitor that he and she are thoroughly welcome. It is the little things that count. But one to avoid as we would shun the plague is the gratuitous lecture from any of us to our American cousins on Washington's foreign policy—past, present, or future. That is their business. But remember: American dollars mean more American airplanes for Canada and her Allies.

An Old Trick

OUR FRIENDS IN THE NEIGHBORING republic are no longer fooled by clumsy Nazi propaganda. We can almost see the bulge in the cheek of the United States charge d'affaires in Berlin as he listened to the warning from a Nazi official that the British already had destroyed, or were about to destroy, the U.S. liner President Roosevelt, now bound for Elve to collect a thousand or more Americans assembled there from the various belligerent European countries. As one British Foreign Office spokesman said this morning, "in the past it has been the German policy to accuse the Allies of doing exactly what the Germans themselves have in mind," recalling, incidentally, that this reference to the possible fate of the President Roosevelt is on a par with Berlin's charge that the British sank the Athenia, and Nazi Admiral Raeder's intimation to the United States that the Iroquois would be sunk by the British as she plied her way westward across the Atlantic.

German submarines, of course, had been spread out far from the German coast many days before the war broke out. Hitler knew he was going to invade Poland—and he must have known, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding, that Great Britain and France would honor their pledge to that unhappy republic. So his underwater craft were ready for action. Well off the northwest tip of Northern Ireland the Athenia went down less than 24 hours after Great Britain declared war—the victim of a Nazi torpedo. Nothing happened to the Iroquois. And it is scarcely to be supposed that even Hitler has any sinister plans for the President Roosevelt. But the "warning" to the United States charge d'affaires is part of the type of "panic propaganda" which serves Germany's purpose well. Much propaganda is also creeping into some Canadian newspapers. This is not intended to be alarmist, but in times like these such effusions from the thoughtless and unintelligent should find their way to the wastepaper basket.

If not war, Americans by late summer, at least, will begin to have their own atrocity stories of the poisoning of Democratic wells, the bombing of Republican stretcher bearers.

HITLER'S TECHNIQUE

In these days we might bear in mind this passage from Hitler's own book, Mein Kampf:

"A clever conqueror will always, if possible, impose his demands on the conquered by installments. For a people that makes a voluntary surrender saps its own character; and with such a people you can calculate that none of these oppressions in detail will supply quite enough reason for it to resort once more to arms. The more such extortions are suffered without resistance, the more justifiable it comes to seem to people to make any ultimate stand against pressures; which appear each to be new and isolated, though in fact there is perpetual recurrence of them."

As I See It

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

AIR BOSS

ONE OF THE THINGS WHICH Hitler smashed to bits when he cut through the French lines was our own Empire Training scheme. This plan was based on the idea that we were going to have five years to beat the Nazis. Its first stage was the production of instructors. The pilots, in quantities, were only to come later. Not before the autumn of 1941 would the scheme be producing finished air fighters in quantities which really meant anything.

Now that plan is all shot. Britain's new air minister has cabled to Canada and all other Dominions that "one airplane now is worth 10 two years hence."

Canada's response has been twofold. In the first place she has sent all planes already on hand—and expedited the sending of further fighter squadrons, which were purely Canadian, and not part of the larger, slower Empire scheme. In the second place, she has appointed as Minister of Defence for Air one of the most aggressive of young Canadian public men—Hon. "Chubby" Power of Quebec.

Major Power himself had a fine fighting record in the last war. He was almost literally forced into the King government in the first place by the pressure of public opinion. The Department of National Pensions was straightened out under his administration as it had never been straightened out before. Veterans' grievances which had once been at a tidal wave stage, receded to a comparative trickle.

HATES RED TAPE

INSIDERS AT OTTAWA Major Power is known as a man with a healthy contempt for red tape and bureaucracy. He seems to me to be the very best available man for the job.

Our Canadian position now in regard to the production of planes and pilots seems to me to be parallel with that of British munitions in the last war when Lloyd George was given the job of speeding things up. As he later wrote about his success: "I threw out seven experts and put in one man."

I hope that Major Power will do everything conceivably possible to see that the Empire training scheme proceeds undisturbed, as intended. But, in addition to that, I hope he proceeds with an entirely separate scheme, based on the vital needs of this life-and-death emergency. His colleague, Mr. Howe, can be depended upon to produce all the planes that this country can build, beg, borrow, or steal if the Dominion tells him to go ahead and do exactly that. But we have got to begin turning out pilots far more quickly and in far greater numbers than we have so far.

EXPERTS WRONG

IN THIS WAR IT HAS BEEN shown once again that the experts are almost always wrong. Hitler the wild man, and military amateur, did things to the Maginot Line which 99 out of every 100 military experts in all the world said could not be done. I am therefore emboldened to say that I think the experts are all wrong in their approach to the production of fighting planes for this war. If we had 10 years to get ready to beat Hitler it would be all right. But we will be lucky if we get 10 months; and the next 10 days may show whether or not the last stand against Hitler is to be in Europe or right here in North America.

I think that we should do what President Roosevelt is now doing. Teach every fit man and boy who wants to learn to fly to do that. There is no time to begin by teaching them to march, and salute and all that sort of nonsense. I know that the experts say that the modern air force is so intricate that men learn most through an exhaustive training course, and so forth and so on. I think otherwise. I think we could produce thousands of pilots who could handle single-seater fighter planes—and produce them in a comparatively few weeks if we had the planes—and that we could get such planes if we put our whole motor industry producing them on a compulsory basis.

WHAT FOKKER SAID

THIS IS NOT JUST MY WILD IDEA. It is the idea of one of the greatest air experts who ever lived—the late Anthony Fokker. It was Fokker whose planes we refused to buy before the last war, and whose planes proved so deadly when used by our enemy. It was Fokker who wrote three years before this war that the way to fight air forces such as Germany was building up was to produce swift light planes manned by one man—to fly them in swarms, not formal military formations—and let them shoot the enemy right out of the sky.

The military key to Hitler's break through so far has been the bombing planes which precede the tanks and blast everything before them. Bombing planes are easy targets for fighter planes. Then what are we waiting for?

Even now, young Canadians are paying their own good money to learn to fly at civilian schools. That is final proof of the gross stupidity of our plans to date.

A GREEDY BEAR

A greedy bear grew fat and strong. And never knew when he was wrong. He stepped on all his neighbors' toes. And growled at brave and timid foes. He did not know that little people Sometimes can raze the tallest steeples. And all dark clouds must pass away To clear the sky for coming day.

SEUMAS O'BRIEN.

Press shots of a London military wedding show the bridegroom under an arch of 40 swords. Thus cornered, the fellow wisely put up no fight.

NATIONAL SERVICE CORPS

To the Editor:—Directly war broke out, a letter in the press urged—prompt registration of Canadian women for training and testing in war services, ready for possible (and, as events indicate, hideously probably) eventualities here.

Simultaneously, eastern Canadian women urged the same thing, and Ottawa announced a voluntary registration of Canadian women. My numerous correspondents and I registered directly local offices opened.

That was eight months ago, and nothing has resulted. Recently I asked an official what scheme was under way... learning that the register is shelved indefinitely! That nothing was done then or since to verify its information; no copies made for local and provincial use; no scheme even envisaged for the essential classification and coordination, locally, of available services; no record sent anywhere of names for local emergencies; the register, nugatory in itself, had displaced action which, but for loyal withdrawal or independent initiative, would have been achieved by now—a soundly organized province-wide body of competent war workers.

If parachutists from Mars descended tonight on Alberni, Victoria, Prince Rupert, Vancouver, they would find (as they expected) precisely the same situation, compelling the collapse of Denmark, Norway, Holland; no permanent group handling comprehensive woman resources or plan for their use; no generally recognized provincial leadership for efficient action; no co-ordinated preparation whatever except A.R.P. and a strictly exclusive "club" of trained girls.

A National Service Corps of war-experienced women and novices should be organized immediately. Germany observes her own timetable, not her enemies'. Dorothy Davis Kymerley, 1425 Newport Avenue.

P.S.—Since writing this, I see the May Chatelaine describes 3,000 workers as classifying 50,000 names—which should have been completed long ago; and still no word of starting that training offered for greater efficiency in essential preparation, or of authorized local committees. Why such placid silence? If a local committee exists, who constitute it? D.D.K.

TOURISTS

To the Editor:—The Victoria Times rebukes editorially what it calls the "extraordinary dictum" of Bishop Wells, who warns us to beware lest Canada's drive for tourist income admits "Fifth Columnists" here.

A significant item in local papers mentions that a German orchestra, accompanied by 500 "technical experts," arriving in Belgrade, had each brought concealed weapons.

Recently, 18,000 Germans invading another Balkan country as "tourists" were recognized as "Fifth Column" potentialities (and less tadpole than frog, at that) and summarily interned.

The Times apparently is unaware that in Canada and the United States exist right now over 1,500,000 Germans, several being doubtless splendid people, loyal to their adopted countries, but the loyal ones would be first to recognize danger of which Bishop Wells speaks, last to resist strong action by authorities for safeguarding Canada.

The argument that Mackenzie King "invited" U.S.A. tourists is ridiculous. Such invitations are made not on a basis of hospitality (in that word's authentic meaning), but of friendly trade.

A rigid check on foreign-born visitors throws no stigma on friendly Americans.

H. CHERITON HILGATE, Box 21, Courtenay, V.I.

(Editor's note—"Extraordinary dictum" was fair description of the demand of Bishop Wells for "immediate cessation" of the tourist business. Officials of the Bank of Montreal, Royal Bank of Canada, and Financial Post of Toronto tell us we must have more and more American dollars to enable us to buy more American airplanes and other war supplies from the United States. We cannot borrow American dollars. Tourists from U.S.A. brought about 275,000,000 of them last year. Canada hopes to get more this year. Leave the "orchestral experts" to the R.C.M.P.)

MERE YACHTS

From Brantford Expositor
When King Edward VII visited Kiel in 1904 the then Kaiser put on a splashy review of the German navy, evidently for the King's special benefit. His Britannic Majesty did not seem impressed, so Wilhelm drew attention to the great array of floating might. "Yes, yes, my dear Willy," said King Edward, "you have always been fond of yachting, I know."

Life is given you so that you can see how much you can put into it, not how much you can get out of it. Sir Wilfrid Grenfell, founder of the Labrador Mission.

COMMON LAW AND PUBLIC INTEREST

From a Correspondent

The status of oil companies in British Columbia as against the price-fixing order of the Coal and Petroleum Control Board has been discussed by members of the local legal profession. They turned up the interesting case of Munn vs. Illinois, 1876, United States Supreme Court reports. The relevant section reads:

"This brings us to inquire as to the principle upon which this power of regulations rests, in order that we may determine what is within and what without its operative effect. Looking, then, to the common law, from whence came the right which the Constitution protects, we find that when private property is affected with a public interest, it ceases to be juris privati only. This was said by Lord Chief Justice Hale more than 200 years ago in his treatise 'De Portibus Maris,' 1 Harg. Law Tracts, 78, and has been accepted without objection as an essential element in the law of property ever since. Property does become clothed with a public interest when used in a manner to make it of public consequence, and effect the community at large. When, therefore, one devotes his property to a use in which the public has an interest, he in effect grants to the public an interest in that use, and must submit to be controlled by the public for the common good, to the extent of the interest he has thus created. He may withdraw his grant by discontinuing the use; but, so long as he maintains the use, he must submit to the control."

FOR THE FAINT-HEARTED

Letter from Thornton Purkis, Toronto, in Montreal Gazette.

Sir:—During the past few days I have heard people carping about England's withdrawal from certain Norwegian bases. One might imagine all was lost save honor. It occurred to me therefore that, for the benefit of the faint-hearted, you might print the following lines. They will recall memories of stirring events to those who have had occasion to quote them. I regret that I do not know the name of the author.

"So small a shield to hold so great a sign.
So small a sheath to hold so great a blade!
England, in the darkest hour of thine
Those that have known thee best are least afraid."

French Big Guns Smash Railhead

BASEL, Switzerland (AP) —
French guns systematically shelled the German railroad and forest below Baden, just north of the Swiss frontier, for the third successive day today, with only sporadic replies from the German Westwall batteries.

The major part of the French fire seemed to be directed against the six forts in and around the Rock of Istein, the Nazis' Gibraltar, towering above the Rhine rapids and the big Kembs Dam.

Yesterday afternoon artillery fire from the Maginot Line literally pulverized the important rail junction at Weil, Germany, north of the Swiss border here, in seven hours of intensive shelling.

German guns at Istein replied against the French branch line connecting Maginot River forts with the strategic Burgundian Gate, a gap between the Jura and the Vosges Mountains before Belfort.

When thick clouds of black smoke rose from a point behind the village of Wenzwiller, it was believed German shells may have fired some of the little Alsatian villages vacated soon after the war started.

There was no doubt about the French hits, however, for they could be seen from here.

It was apparent the Weil rail junction, which links two important German Rhine lines—ones from Karlsruhe to Basel and from Burg southward along the river and the other from Konstanz via Schopheim and Lorrach westward along the Rhine—was smashed beyond hope of repair for some time.

Two freight cars standing on a Weil siding vanished like magic and a puff of flying debris pattered down like rain.

Other French shells made a run of the Weil station and pocked the web of tracks between Weil and Haltingen.

LARGEST BANKS OF WORLD LISTED

LOS ANGELES—With deposits at a new year-end high of $6,760, $61,000, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York is the largest bank in the English-speaking world, according to the 14th edition of "The Deposit Liabilities of 150 of the largest American, British, Colonial and Dominion Banks," a brochure annually compiled and just released by California Bank,
Los Angeles.

The Chase National Bank, New
York, with deposits of $2,803,730, is second, followed by the National City Bank of New York with deposits of $2,331,257,944, the Guaranty Trust Company of New York with deposits of $2,088,427,
346, and Midland Bank Ltd. of London with deposits of $1,965, $54,034. The combined total deposits of $63,140,511,202 for all banks in the brochure exceeds, by almost 10 per cent, the former all-time peak of $57,484,604,686 in the 1939 issue, and by 88 per cent the depression low point of $33, 523,082,172 in the 1933 issue.

In the 10-year period since the January 1, 1930, issue, the 150 largest commercial banks throughout the United States and Great Britain have gained over $20,000,000, 000 and the average deposits per bank has increased from $282, 000,000 to $421,000,000. The January 1, 1930, issue listed nine banks with deposits over $1,000,000,000 each and 103 with deposits over $100,000,000 each; the current issue shows 15 banks with deposits over $1,000,000,000 each and 139, or 93 per cent, with deposits exceeding $100,000,000 each.

Ninety-eight of the 150 banks, with deposits of $43,851,218,817, are American. They are found in 22 states and the District of Columbia. Twenty-three are in New York, 12 in Pennsylvania, 11 in California, 7 each in Missouri and Ohio, and 6 each in Illinois and Massachusetts. New York City, with 20 banks with $21,857,587,091 in deposits, leads the American cities, followed by Philadelphia and San Francisco with 7 banks each, Boston and Chicago with 6 each, Pittsburgh with 5 and Cleveland, Los Angeles and St. Louis with 4 each.

The 52 British banks, with deposits of $19,289,232,385, are found in all parts of the Empire. England has 22 banks or head offices,
Canada nine, Scotland eight, Australia five, the Orient four, Ireland two and South Africa and New Zealand one each. London, with 17 banks and $11,103,949,711
in deposits, heads the list of British cities. Edinburgh, with five banks, is next, followed by Toronto with four, and Manchester,
Montreal and Sydney with three each.

A study of the history of these 150 large banks reveals that 113, or 75 per cent, are 50 years of age or over, and of these, 43 banks (28 British and 15 American) are over 100 years of age. The oldest bank in the list is the British bank, Coutts & Co., founded in 1692—almost a century before the founding in 1784 of the Bank of New York, the oldest American bank.

California Bank distributes the brochure internationally to bankers, embassies, consular agents and businessmen engaged in the various types of foreign commerce.

Five banks included this year were not listed in California
Bank's 1939 brochure: Wilmington Trust Co., Wilmington; Brown Bros. Harriman & Co., New York;
First National Bank, Cincinnati;
Republic National Bank, Dallas;
and Second National Bank, New York.

The deposits of American banks are as of December 31, 1939, and of the other banks, from latest statements available. Foreign currencies are converted at the exchange rates prevailing at December 31, 1939. The list does not include the deposits of purely savings institutions.

Victorian Wed to Union Bay Girl

UNION BAY — Union Bay United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding ceremony Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock when Rev. F. C. Chilton united in marriage Alma Agnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Magnone-Millet, Union Bay, and Ivor Richard Hardiman, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Hardiman of Victoria.

The ceremony took place under an arch of roses and the altar was banked with beautiful bloom of laburnum, lupins and other early flowers. The dainty bride was attired in a gown of white point d'esprit over taffeta with a fitted waist and flowing skirt. She wore a floor-length veil held by a halo of orange blossoms. Her flowers were sweetheart roses and pink and white carnations.

The youngest sister of the bride, Miss Irene Magnone-Millet, was maid of honor. She wore a dress of fuchsia taffeta with a blue doll hat. The bridesmaid, Miss Mildred Hardiman, sister of the groom, wore queen-blue taffeta with a fuchsia doll hat. Both carried bouquets of sweet peas and fern. The best man was Andrew Magnone-Millet, brother of the bride. William Chafer and George McKay were ushers.

The wedding march was played by Miss Annie McLeod and during the ceremony Mrs. David Campbell sang "God Is Love."

Following the ceremony a reception for 50 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Mrs. Magnone-Millet received in a navy blue crepe gown with wide brimmed hat and corsage of pink carnations, assisted by the groom's mother, Mrs. P. H. Hardiman of Victoria in aqua blue, with black and white accessories, silver fox furs and corsage of gardenias. Two aunts of the bride, Mrs. C. Magnone of Vancouver and Mrs. F. Winterburn of Victoria, presided at the urns and served were the closest girl friends of the bride. During the reception Mrs. Jean Anderson sang "Because" and later Mr. Andrew Magnone proposed the toast to the bride and groom, to which the groom responded briefly.

The bride and groom left immediately for a wedding trip to the mainland. For traveling the bride donned a tailored suit of dusky rose with powder blue accessories, topped by a tailored navy blue full-length coat. She wore a corsage of gardenias.

On their return from their honeymoon the happy couple will take up residence at Victoria.

WEDDINGS
SARGEANT-HAWKSWORTH
A quiet wedding took place at St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, at 5 p.m. Saturday, when Ven. Archdeacon Nunn united in marriage Edith Mary, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Hawksworth, and Mr. Reginald Stanley Sargeant, A.B., R.C.N.V.R., third son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Sargeant, both of Winnipeg. Mr. F. W. Wilson, an old friend of the bride's family, gave her away, and Mr. Leslie Lucas, A.B., R.C.N.V.R., was best man.

The bride wore an afternoon gown of Cloisonne blue crepe with small flower hat and veil in tones of blue, and carried a shower bouquet of cream tea roses. Her sister, Miss Irene Hawksworth, was bridesmaid, and wore a dress of dusky rose triple sheer with small hat and veil to match. Her bouquet was roses in the same shade as her dress.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Wilson, 2091 Byron Street, where the guests were received by Mrs. R. Peters, aunt of the bride, wearing a navy blue triple sheer frock, and by Mrs. F. W. Wilson, whose dress was heavenly blue crepe. The bride's table was centred with the three-tier wedding cake with white tapers and small silver vases of roses. A profusion of spring flowers in pastel shades made a lovely setting throughout the house.

Mr. and Mrs. Sargeant will reside in Oak Bay. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. R. Peters, Miss Betty Bennett and Mr. Bruce Whitehead, all of Vancouver.

BRANDSON-JOBIBNS
The marriage was quietly solemnized in St. Mark's Church at 2.30 o'clock Friday afternoon, Rev. O. L. Jull officiating, between Muriel Janet, only daughter of Mrs. H. M. Jobbins, 1248 Fort Street, and the late J. S. Jobbins of Melita, Man., and Mr. Brandur Brandson, Victoria.

The bride was given away by her brother, Mr. N. P. Jobbins, and wore a sweetheart blue sheer afternoon frock with a large white hat, white accessories and a corsage bouquet of pink roses. They were unattended.

A reception for relatives and a few friends was held at the home of Mr. H. E. Jobbins, 647 Cornwall Street, another brother, where the guests were welcomed by the bride's mother in a navy blue outfit with a corsage bouquet of roses.

National I.O.D.E. Review Efforts for War Causes

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—Members of the Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire were urged Saturday night to double their number in the coming year in order to provide a greater contribution to the war effort.

The appeal was made by Mrs. W. B. Horkins, Toronto, president of the National Chapter, after the chapter's 40th annual meeting opened here.

"In these days of great events it is more than ever necessary to stimulate and give impression to the sentiment of loyalty which joins us together as Daughters of the Empire and to instill into our young people patriotism in its fullest sense," said the national president.

Among future tasks Mrs. Horkins mentioned rehabilitation of soldiers after the war, immigration problems and placement of orphan child refugees.

SECRETARY'S REPORT

The zealous attention of the members of the order to questions of national importance outlined in the comprehensive report presented by the national secretary, Mrs. L. B. Smart of Toronto, who noted particularly that immediately after the outbreak of war, a national war service committee was established as was a self-sacrifice fund for war purposes. A message was also sent to the Prime Minister of Canada and the Minister of Defence offering the services of the order in specified capacities, and with the remainder of the order had been established since 1900 and had active experience in the last Great War.

Mrs. Smart made appreciative reference to the wartime and other activities of the chapters of the order which are not provincially organized—Prince Edward Island and the Yukon—and also commended the work of junior chapters, especially for their unbounded enthusiasm in war work and child welfare and for their assistance to needy ex-service men. Reference was also made to the fine work for the navy undertaken by the order in connection with the crews of H.M.S. Exeter and H.M.S. Hereward when these ships were in port.

MANY NEW MEMBERS
New members of the order number 3,030, Mrs. W. C. Hodgson, Quebec, organizing secretary, reported. The war had given impetus to the formation of new chapters, 67 in all, 58 of which were primary and nine junior. Mrs. Hodgson expressed gratification that nearly all the new chapters were composed of young women, which fact constituted great strength for the future of the order.

There are now eight provincial, 17 municipal, 735 primary and 29 junior chapters. The total membership is 26,173.

FOR EX-SERVICE MEN
The chapters in every province share in the privilege of aiding necessitous ex-service men and their families, according to the report presented by Mrs. J. N. Foster, Halifax, who stated that approximately $17,864 had been expended in this department last year for such various purposes as rent, clothing, books, groceries, fuel, medicines, fruits, furniture, milk, optical supplies, bedding, layettes, school supplies, skates, sleds, holidays for children at fresh air camps, artificial limbs, garden seeds, pictures and dentures. Returned men in hospital have been visited, memorials and graves are carefully tended.

CHILD AND FAMILY WELFARE
The large sum of $103,136 contributed by the order throughout Canada for child and family welfare last year was reported. This includes the maintenance of summer camps, clinics, preventoria, sanatoria, hospitals, playgrounds, the provision of quantities of milk, fruit and eggs for undernourished schoolchildren and families, and of clothing of every kind, in cases of destitution, also of rent, fuel and food.

A tremendous amount of work is done by the chapters everywhere to brighten dreary homes at the Christmas season by supplying hampers, clothing and toys, nor are the sick in hospital forgotten.

ENDOWMENT FUND
Because of the bequest of $900 made by the late Miss Emma Frances Holliday, a former member of the Victoria-Guelph Chapter of Guelph, Ontario, the national endowment fund of the order has this year amounted to $8,023, which surpassed that contributed in any previous year. In recording Miss Holliday's munificent gift to the fund, the national convener, Mrs. Ryland H. New, Oakville, Ont., made the sound suggestion that members make similar bequests to the fund in their wills. "The need will always be there," commented Mrs. New, "and you would thus be the means of helping to carry forward an important piece of work."

The total amount of the fund has reached the sum of $50,937. This fund, the objective of which is $200,000, was established to provide financial stability to enable the order "to take its place in any emergency and to be prepared for any task that lies ahead." The interest on the fund is allotted annually to the provincially-organized provinces to aid them in their work of organization. The sum sent to each such province last year (eight) was $35.

ECHOES COMMITTEE
Mrs. P. G. Might, Toronto, national Echoes secretary, noted increased interest in the magazine is reflected in the remarkable advancement in subscriptions in every province and in the Yukon, and also in Bermuda and in the Bahamas, as well as in the fact that for the past year there is a surplus of $728, twice that of the previous year. The list of subscriptions to the magazine has now reached the gratifying number of 17,000.

U.S. Women Busy on Red Cross Work

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of thousands of knitting needles are clicking throughout the United States as women respond to the American Red Cross urgent call for sweaters, socks, caps and scarfs for Europe's 5,000,000 war refugees, mainly in France.

But there is one color that they are discreetly told to avoid—bright red. Aside from its obvious association with wounds, the Red Cross was tipped that France wants none of that "Communist color."

Mr. Dwight Davis, assistant director of the American Red Cross volunteers' services, issued a quota to the 3,700 Red Cross chapter, to be finished September 1, of 166,460 knitted sweaters, 98,070 dresses, 36,650 layettes, 17,900 hospital bed shirts, an equal number of convalescent robes and 8,650 operating gowns.

Shows Europe Film To Aid War Work

Holland in the full glory of tulip-time, shown against a background of gently moving windmills; Holland with its canals and quaint houses, its women and girls in picturesque costumes—these are only a few of the many scenes to be shown by H. J. Pendray at 8 p.m. on Friday, May 31, in the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium, under the auspices of the Sir Matthew Balfour Begbie Chapter, I.O.D.E.

Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Belgium, so much in the news today, are shown by Mr. Pendray as they were a year ago, when he toured these countries, before the Nazi hordes moved in, to ravage and desecrate their beauties. The Kattegat and Shagerrack, the fjords of Norway and Trondheim are among the many places to be visited on this moving picture tour.

All the proceeds from this exhibition will be used to augment the chapter's war work fund for comforts for the forces.

Hospital Dedicated

KELOWNA (CP)—More than 900 persons took part in dedication ceremonies of Kelowna's $140,000 hospital yesterday.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, represented the British Columbia government and said the government was always willing to assist in the matter of hospitalization for districts "which have clearly demonstrated they are willing to bear their share of the burden."

The provincial government granted $30,000 towards construction of the building while the city raised $65,000. Gifts from societies and individuals helped in equipping the institution.

Powell River Vets Favor Conscription

POWELL RIVER, B.C. (CP)—Officials of the Powell River Servicemen's Association said today they had sent a series of 10 resolutions to the Dominion government asking for the introduction of conscription and greater control of enemy aliens to guard against possible fifth column activity.

The resolutions, approved at a meeting of the association here last night, ask for the employment of interned aliens on public works projects, the suspension of naturalization for the duration and compulsory registration of all citizens over 16 years of age.

The association wired the government that because it has the power to introduce conscription, this power should be put into effect immediately.

The ex-servicemen also asked for a "general and immediate speeding" of Canada's air effort and Empire air training scheme.

Local Women Want Men's Jobs in War

Special to the Times
OTTAWA — To gain official recognition and a definite place in Canada's war efforts for the Women's Service Corps of British Columbia Mrs. Allan Morkill and Mrs. Joan Kennedy of Victoria today conferred here with R. W. Mayhew, M.P., Victoria, and Alan Chambers, M.P., Nanaimo. The two members backed the request at a later meeting with Capt. T. Dyde, executive secretary of the militia council.

Besides the large trained corps of women in Victoria, it was explained there were other units in Nanaimo, Vancouver and the Okanagan, under the plan before the militia council, corps members, trained as passenger car and truck drivers, would relieve for active military services men now assigned as drivers. The government has expressed its sympathy with the move, the only difficulty to be overcome is that of the brass hats, who say they can find no provision for such an innovation in army regulations.

WORLD ATLASES WIRE BASKETS WEDDING CARDS

To say that we are stationers, book-sellers, printers, office furnishers, conveys but little of the ramifications of a business that has grown and expanded with each decade and as the passing years demanded.

The conduct of such a many-sided business so far from the sources of supply has necessitated our being our own wholesalers, as well as retailers to the public, and in the field of the graphic arts we are also manufacturers in every phase from steel die embossing to offset lithography.

Each of the several business houses which we have absorbed from time to time has led to some new line of endeavor, and today our establishment includes two retail stores on Government Street, as well as four stores on Langley Street and a warehouse on Bastion Street, all in our own buildings.

The ABC of Progress

To my mind real progress in business is more than keeping complete stocks and a well-conducted place of business. The very essence of business progress is to keep pace with changing ideas and changing demands—to so gauge the wants and wishes of an ever-growing clientele that its members feel that they can depend on complete and intelligent service in every phase of our particular business. So far as I have been successful in achieving this—just so far has my business made real progress.

NEURITIS PAINS DISAPPEAR STOMACH GAS IS RELIEVED HE THANKS MOSBY'S TONIC

Mr. Dumas Had Severe Leg Pains—Very Nervous—Stomach Gassy and Upset—Now Mosby's Tonic Has Relieved Him and He Says: "I Feel Fine Now. This Medicine Is Splendid!"

MR. ANDREW DUMAS, of 50 W. Cordova St., Vancouver, says he can hardly believe the big change MOSBY'S TONIC Made in Him After a Solid Year of Suffering. Read His Grateful Statement in This Announcement.

Now Feels Fine; No Pain; Stomach Distress Goes

"Now, as I said before, my trouble had been going on for a solid year or more and although I tried many medicines I never got any real relief. Then one day I read in the newspapers about Mosby's Tonic. I went to the Cunningham Drug Store and got this medicine. And now I have come back to the store today to tell you what a splendid change it has made in me. My neuritis pains are relieved and I have worked steady for the past week, which is something I had not been able to do before. It drove that gas and bloating from my stomach and I can enjoy my meals without suffering afterward. Can sleep fine now, and my bowels are more regular than they have been IN YEARS. I have more energy and feel better in every way. Mosby's Tonic has done so much for me that I want to endorse it to all who suffer as I did."

It Helps to Clear Away the Poisonous Wastes

MOSBY'S TONIC helps to clear away poisonous wastes from the system in several ways at once—that is it acts as a cathartic, laxative, cholagogue and diuretic all at the same time, and helps cleanse, loosen, assist Nature to flush excess impurities from kidneys, brings forth gas and bloating from stomach and stimulates the flow of liver bile. Many people write us they soon feel like different men and women as a result of this cleansing and invigorating action of Mosby's Tonic. Another thing—due to the immense volume in which it sells, the price of Mosby's Tonic is reasonable. So, don't hesitate. Get Mosby's Tonic—TODAY! A Special Mosby's Tonic Representative, known as The MOSBY TONIC Man, is now at The CUNNINGHAM DRUG STORE, Fort and Douglas Sts., Victoria, daily meeting crowds of people and introducing and explaining this New Compound.

Neuritis Pains, Gaseous Stomach, Nervousness

"For more than a year I had been suffering with neuritis pains in my leg," said Mr. Dumas. "Sometimes the pains were so severe that I can hardly describe them. I lost many days of work on account of this suffering. Besides this neuritis, my stomach was so afflicted that I could hardly eat without having gas pains afterward. Sometimes this gas swelling would keep me awake at night and, I tell you, it certainly is real suffering. Bowels were very sluggish, in fact, they almost REFUSED TO ACT without some kind of laxative. I couldn't sleep and always felt worn out. So you can see that my condition was discouraging.

VITAMINS for vitality

TOGETHER they can help brace you up again

Does it show in your face that you feel peppy? Do little digestive upsets steal your vitality? Then why don't you try adding the new Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast to your daily diet?

The vitamins and the fresh yeast work together, scientists say, to help build people up.

The fresh yeast stimulates slow digestion and speeds up the assimilation of food. Laboratory tests have shown this is an action of the yeast itself — entirely distinct from known vitamin action.

The vitamins are needed for steady nerves and vitality.

Only in Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast can you get such an abundant supply of the 4 important vitamins, A, B, D and G, and all the vitamins of the amazing Vitamin B Complex.

Eat 2 cakes every day. See if you don't start feeling more energetic, if you don't look better, too!

Pattullo, Hart, Endorse Speed-up

Special to the Times

OTTAWA — Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance in B.C., arrived in Ottawa today to join Premier Pattullo in putting before the federal government British Columbia's demands for an immediate speedup to the limit of Canada's war efforts. Bearing the expressions of opinion from various groups in Victoria the Premier and Mr. Hart have arranged to place them personally before Prime Minister Mackenzie King today or tomorrow.

It was recalled here on Mr. Pattullo's arrival yesterday that in the first week of the war he came out for unrestricted mobilization of Canada's manpower and resources, even to the extent of conscription.

Both Mr. Pattullo and Mr. Hart denounced the sentiments voiced in the House of Commons by J. S. Roy, Conservative member for Gaspé, who called for a Canadian policy of moderate participation in the war and attacked the Mackenzie King government because "a new wave of Imperialism is rising and is about to carry the government with it." The British Columbia ministers emphasized that expression of such views in the Canadian Parliament were shocking to Canadians in British Columbia, resented by them, and that they would do everything in their power to combat them.

Mr. Hart today again impressed upon the federal authorities British Columbia's desire for unrestricted co-operation with Ottawa in an "all-out" war effort. He reaffirmed the British Columbia government had postponed until after the war consideration of all controversial matters so as to permit the greatest degree of national unity during the crisis.

CUTS EXPENSES
Mr. Hart announced to Hon. L. Ralston, Minister of Finance, that British Columbia, through cutting expenses, would show an operating surplus of more than $3,000,000 in the current year. Because of this, he explained, the province would be able to cut to around $250,000 its borrowing from Ottawa on unemployment relief account, easing the strain on the Dominion treasury to that extent.

PORT ALBERNI
PORT ALBERNI — The Capitol Theatre was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon for the British Commonwealth of Nations Day of prayer. Rev. Glen Stevenson of All Saints and St. Alban's Anglican Church delivered an eloquent address. Rev. A. McLean of the United Church read the scriptures and pronounced the benediction, while prayers were recited by Rev. N. Vail of Knox Presbyterian Church and Rev. A. Francis of the Pentecostal congregation. Percy Willis, pastor of the Shantymen's Christian Mission, was a visitor.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Harmful poisons go into the body, and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A more normal movement doesn't take away at the cause. You need something that works on the liver as well. It takes those good old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless and gentle, they make the bile flow freely. They do the work of a catalyst but have no catalyst or mercury in them. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name! Stubbornly refuse anything else. 50c

Leads Giants Towards Lead

Sports Mirror

By PETE SALLAWAY

EVERYBODY KEEPS asking what can be the matter with the New York Yankees in the American Baseball League pennant race, and everybody knows the answer. Anybody who just merely glances at the batting averages is hit in the eye with the complete explanation. They aren't hitting. But nobody can persuade us that Bill Dickey is going to hit down around .155 all season or any great part of it.

Proportional representation, an old program in politics, is breaking into baseball. Boston has one team up and one team down. New York, including Brooklyn, has one team up, one team down and one team in the middle.

There are some pretty good shortstops around the major leagues this season. Brooklyn has two in Reese and Durocher. Eddie Miller of the Boston Bees has a lot of rooters in the playing

New York Giant rooters think highly of Billy Gurnea, and with reason. Joe Cronin has now reached the stage where he has to make up with the bat for some slowing up in the field. But what doesn't show in the averages is Joe's spirit and generalship. Arky Vaughan of the Pittsburgh Pirates is really the shortstop who has to hit to hold on. His fielding, never of the best, has been lamentable this season.

No roll-call of current good shortstops would be close to complete without including Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians. Manager Oscar Vitt claims he could carry the others on his back and still be the best in the American League. Boudreau can pound the ball, too, which is not an objectionable quality in any shortstop.

The Cincinnati Reds figured to be up in the National League race, and there they are. The Yankees figured to be up in the American League campaign, and where are they? Life is like that.

If Vernon Gomez remains an invalid there's a fellow on the Yankees who may make a great replacement for him. Marius Russo looks to be as smooth a left-hander since Herb Pennock walked off the mound, the experts say.

(Turn to Page 13, Col. 3)

Sunday's scores:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pittsburgh 3, Chicago 2.
New York 10, Boston 8.
Brooklyn 1, Philadelphia 0.
Cincinnati 4, St. Louis 0.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

New York 7, Boston 2.
Washington 4, Philadelphia 3.
St. Louis 5, Cleveland 3-13.

COAST LEAGUE

Hollywood 4, Portland 5-1.
Sacramento 8, Los Angeles 4-2.

San Diego 2, San Francisco 3-4.

Oakland 2-11, Seattle 7-4.

Up there in the place all good baseball souls go, the old man must be dancing a jig these spring afternoons, as he looks down on his New York Giants.

For Harry the hose Danning, last of the "McGraw Men" to arrive, is a rip-snorting bronco now.

Not only is Harry head man in the Giants' sudden surge toward the National League roof—they were only 2½ games out after a 10 to 8 decision over the Boston Bees yesterday—but he's the complete answer to the dream the old man (of course its John McGraw) always had of presenting to Pa Knickerbocker's folks a classy Jewish ball player.

He's leading the league in batting now with a neat .394, and is out in front with 31 runs batted in. His total of seven homers—two of them in yesterday's affair accounting for four runs—is second only to Johnny Mize's mauling.

The only reason Danning didn't knock the Giants any nearer the National League's driver's seat yesterday was because both Brooklyn and the Cincinnati Reds won too. The chief development in the American League, meantime, saw the New York Yankees bounce out of the cellar up to a tie for sixth place.

The Dodgers, blanked for eight innings, handed a heartbreaker to Kirby Higbe and the Phillies, 2 to 1 in 10 innings. The Reds blanked the St. Louis Cardinals 4 to 0 behind the one-hit elbowing of Paul Derringer.

Bob Klinger turned in a six-hitter to nip the Chicago Cubs 3 to 2 on behalf of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Charley Keller clouted a homer and a double, sending in three runs, and the Hawks had a 7 to 2 celebration at the expense of the league-leading Boston Red Sox. The A's dropped a 4 to 3 affair to Washington's Senators on Johnny Weir's 10th inning homer.

The Cleveland Indians split with the St. Louis Browns. Left-hander Emil Bidldill and a five-run rally in one inning gave the browns first blood 5 to 3. Then left-hander Al Milnar turned in a 13 to 1 win in the nightcap.

COAST LEAGUE

The Seattle Rainiers, last year's champions, held a full two-game lead over the rest of the pack in the Coast League chase today after winning six of seven games last week against Oakland. Oakland's only win was in the second game of yesterday's doubleheader.

Seattle won the first 7 to 2 and Oakland came back in the nightcap for an 11 to 4 victory.

Sacramento drubbed Los Angeles 8 to 4 and 5 to 2 to hand the Angels their third consecutive loss of Sunday doubleheaders.

Hollywood and Portland divided two games. Portland came from behind to take the opener 5 to 4 and Hollywood snatched the seven-inning nightcap 3 to 1, to win the series, four games to three.

A crowd of 10,000 at San Francisco saw the Seals punch out wins over San Diego in both ends of a double ticket, 3 to 2 and 4 to 2.

LOCAL 'Y' BOYS Win Gym Titles

Senior leaders of the Victoria Y.M.C.A. scored another win for the association under physical director Archie McKinnon's guidance. Saturday night, by defeating Pro-Rees from Vancouver in the British Columbia gymnastic championship at their home gym.

A capacity crowd witnessed the local boys triumph in the four-man team contests and place first in four of five individual competitions. Pieces of apparatus used were the high horizontal, parallel bars, side horse, mats and flying rings.

Doug Marsland, Pacific northwest "Y" gymnastic titleholder, won three of the individual contests—the horse, parallel bars and mats—and placed second in the flying rings event.

Don Kerr, runner-up to Marsland in the "Y" championships, won the high bar contest and was second on the parallel bars.

Larry Moore placed second on the horse and was tied for second with Vic Allard of Vancouver on the high bar. The two boys tossed a coin to break the deadlock and Moore lost.

The Vancouver Pro-Rees placed first on the flying rings, with Ronnie Small carrying the colors. Small was second to Marsland on the mts.

In the team contest Victoria beat Vancouver by a score of 1,000 to 988. The teams were:

Victoria—Doug Marsland, Larry Moore, Ken Marsland and Don Kerr.

Vancouver—Herb Kling, Lloyd Preston, Mars Tarnowski and Ronnie Small.

Warren W. Martin, president of the B.C. branch of the A.A.U. of Canada, presented the trophies at the conclusion of the championships.

Club Golf Finals

Taylor, Painter Win

Alan Taylor and Vic Painter are the champions of the Victoria and Uplands Golf Clubs, respectively. In 36-hole finals yesterday Taylor defeated Jim Squire at the 37th hole, and Painter won from Eric Wright 7 and 5. It was the second straight title for Painter.

Staging a thrilling comeback on the last nine holes, after being 3 down at the 27th, Taylor squared his match with Squire on the 36th and won on the first extra hole. On the 37th Squire was in the bunker with his third, on the green in four and missed his putt to lose the hole. Taylor being on the carpet, two feet from the pin in three.

At the end of the first 18 Squire held a 1 up lead. He was out in 37, and back in the same number of strokes for a 74, while Taylor's card was 41-36-77.

After halving the first hole in the afternoon, Squire snared a birdie two at the 20th to go 2 up. The next three holes were tied with Squire taking the 24th to gain a three hole margin. The next three holes were halved.

Starting the final nine, Taylor captured three holes in a row to even the match. Squire won the 32nd to go 1 up again, but took a disastrous six on the last hole to let Taylor square matters. Their scores for the afternoon were: Squire 40-34-74 and Taylor 34-36-70.

A. H. Ford won the first flight from Harold Husband, 4 and 2, and W. B. Leach defeated J. P. Paret 7 and 6 in the second flight final.

UPLANDS FINALS

Deadly putting featured Painter's play in his one-sided victory over Wright. The defending champion had 14 one-putt greens during the 31 holes.

In the second flight final Cyril Penzer won by default.

J. R. Hiberson won the third flight, defeating E. Badminton on the 18th green.

In the long-driving competition Eric Wright had the longest drive, 271 yards, while Vic Painter had the best average for three balls, 252 yards.

The nearest ball in the approaching contest was six feet, made by J. R. Angus, and the best average for three balls, seven feet two inches, by N. Florence.

D. Fletcher presented the prizes.

for Pitzer and Nex. He was taken to Jubilee Hospital for treatment.

Pollard of Pitzer and Nex had the best evening at bat, hitting safely in two out of four trips to the plate. Nex getting two hits in five trips. Walker, Athletics, and Morry Hornsby, Pitzer and Nex, smashed out two-baggers.

Sailors Seek Cellar Company

Navy baseballers, who have been rooting in the cellar since the opening of the 1940 senior baseball season, were making plans to enjoy a little company in their dreary surroundings today.

They are seeking the company of Tillicum Athletics, and they can get that tonight if they defeat the clubmen on the Athletic Park diamond in a McGavin Cup fixture that will start at 6.

Athletics were ousted from their second berth spot in the standings Saturday night by Pitzer and Nex via a 2 to 1 defeat. The gammen taking over the second place. Athletics, if beaten tonight, will find themselves sharing the basement roost with the boys in blue.

Saturday night's game with the gashouse gang and Athletics was a snappy affair, featured by the fine heaving performance of Duff Waddell, former Winnipeg moundsman, with Pitzer and Nex. He just missed scoring a shutout, a passed ball in the sixth allowing Athletics to bag their only run.

His southpaw offerings, the Athletics found, were tough to connect with. Sixteen of them struck out. Only three collected safe singles from them.

Army's Lloyd Cann made his first bow of the season on the hillcock for Athletics, and did a good job for a starter. Things were going nicely for him until the seventh, when gammen bunched three hits to push over their first runner.

The winning run came in the next frame, when Cann "bogged" down on Pollard's bunt, giving P. and N.'s manager, Bert Nex, opportunity to come in from the hot corner.

Fans who attended agreed it was one of the season's best games. For five innings neither side scored, and during that time only three bingles were got, two by the A's and one by the gammen.

All told there were 27 strikeouts. A possible fracture of a bone in the left foot was suffered by Henry Harris, second baseman

Givan and Bert in Final Of B.C. Golf Tournament

Barbo Captures Main Auto Race

Promotor Jack Taylor ran into a lot of grief in his Langford Speedway auto races Saturday night, when 4 of 11 cars signed to appear broke down in warm-up runs or early in the evening's program.

A highlight of the evening was the reappearance of Claude Walling, Portlaid, who laughed at Old Man Death in the opening meet of the season last Saturday when his No. 9 car rolled over and tossed him from the cockpit. Walling drove Seth Renning's No. 5 car and gave one of the nicest showings of the evening. He won the second heat race.

BARBO BIG WINNER

Chic Barbo, Seattle, in the No. 27 car, walked off with the big stakes with wins in the 20-lap main event, the helmet dash and the first heat race.

His win in the three-lap dash was over Buddy Green and Digger Caldwell. Caldwell was driving his new No. 1 car for the first time. He appeared to have trouble getting back into the swing of things. Barbo's time in the race was 56 seconds flat.

After Green threw a rod in the first heat race, Jimmy Symes, Seattle, in No. 4, moved up a spot to make the fourth entry in the event. Barbo started on the pole again and was never headed.

Caldwell finished second, Walling third and Symes fourth. The time for the five-lap event was 1:40.45.

Walling beat out Symes and Jack Spaulding in No. 6 in the second heat race. His time was 1:40.15.

Spaulding won a reverse handicap event of five laps over Caldwell, who finished second, Walling third, and Don Vantreigh of Victoria in No. 3. The winning time was 1:44. The first three men were in a bunch all the way.

Seven cars started the main event. Jerry Vantreigh, in No. 7, was forced to the pits with engine trouble in its early stages. Starting fifth, Barbo went to the front on the sixth lap for the remaining 14 rounds. Walling provided some excitement when he spun out trying to pass Caldwell on the 14th lap.

WEEKLY SHOOT

The Rainbow Rifle Club held its weekly shoot on Saturday. Scores out of a possible 100 were as follows: A class, W. Brown, 99, H. Davies 99, R. Ferguson 98, F. Mackenzie 97, Miss G. McAnerin 96, Mrs. W. Bates 95, B. class, E. Jones 89, C. class, A. E. Wyeth 89, H. Ferguson 82, E. Grant 73 and G. Brown 66.

AUTO RACERS MEET

A meeting of the Victoria Midget Racing Association will take place on Thursday evening at 1702 Duchess Street at 8.15.

YOUNG'S CAFE IS LEADING OUTFIT

Young's Cafe paddle-wielders are leading the way in the summer handicap table tennis league with a perfect record of three wins in a like number of starts. Hi-Way Supers suffer defeat at hands of Young's Cafe, 11 to 5; K. Boys defeat V.H.S. Alumni, 13 to 3, and Hornets emerge with a 11 to 5 victory over Aces.

Shamrocks Lose In B.C. Final

Visiting South Burnaby footballers won the British Columbia, under 16, championship here on Saturday, defeating Victoria Shamrocks, 4 to 1, in a battle that went into overtime.

At the end of regulation time the squads were tied 1 to 1. A scoreless first session was the order in overtime, but in the final 15 minutes, the visitors found the goal three times to give them victory.

Walker notched for Burnaby in the first half and Young of the Shamrocks evened things up in the next half. Just before the second half ended Burnaby's Walker brushed aside a local shot that appeared a sure goal.

In the last half of the extra period Curtis found the hemper first for visitors to give them a 2 to 1 lead and he piled in another soon after. Jimmy McLachlan wrote finis to Burnaby's scoring when he tallied close to the final whistle.

Dave McMillan, Victoria, refereed.

Teams were: South Burnaby—R. Murdoch, B. Williams, D. Courtice, F. Adams, W. Walker, B. Taylor, W. Cox, J. McLachlan, V. Ferguson, R. Stragnell, J. Lavis and J. Smith.

Young's Shamrocks—D. Foreman, A. Lamerton, J. Greene, G. Creed, J. McAllister, D. Shubrook, A. Young, T. Goldie, R. Bissen, D. B. McKay, J. Evans, R. Carter, F. Rowa, K. King and J. Buxton.

Latter Beats Ken Black on Final Green

VANCOUVER (CP)—For the first time in at least 15 years Canada was not represented today in the final round of the British Columbia amateur golf championship.

The last remaining British Columbian fell by the wayside in semifinal matches yesterday, sending two Seattle golfers—Harry Givan and Gerry Bert—into the final.

Bert defeated the defending champion and Canadian amateur titleholder, Ken Black of Vancouver, 1 up, while Givan eliminated Jim Robertson, another Vancouver player, 2 and 1.

Givan, twice holder of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association title, a former U.S. Walker Cup player, defeated Lee Griffiths of Seattle, 5 and 4, in the quarter-finals. Bert, Seattle city champion and co-medalist in the United States public links tournament at Cleveland last year, defeated Hugh Morrison, Vancouver, British Columbia junior champion, in 1938, 4 and 3.

The last time an American held the British Columbia title was in 1925.

VICTORIANS BEATEN

Four Victorians, who qualified for the championship all went to the sidelines in the first two rounds of match play on Saturday.

First to go was Freddy Painter, who was beaten at the 19th by another Victorian, Ted Colgate. The latter was eliminated in the second round 5 and 4 by Ken Black. These two met in the final last year at Oak Bay.

Eddie Horsman, fourth Victoria entry, was defeated by Lee Griffiths, 6 and 5, in the second round after defeating J. M. Burnett, Vancouver, 2 up in the first.

Soldiers Join in Day of Prayer

Men of the forces participated in yesterday's day of prayer at a drumhead service in the recreation field at Work Point Barracks. All army units paraded in full uniform and many wives, relatives and friends attended.

Victorians Join Millions Praying for Allied Victory

Canadian Press
Hundreds of thousands of Canadians of all denominations crowded churches of the nation Sunday to pray for Divine intervention in the struggle of the Allies against Nazi Germany.

Special prayers for Divine aid were recited at the request of King George whose appeal was relayed to Canadians by Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Divine assistance and guidance for the political and military leaders of the Allies in their fight for righteousness was beseeched by thousands of Victorians as they joined in the national day of prayer proclaimed by His Majesty the King.

Churches throughout the city were filled by capacity congregations throughout the day, and included many who prayed also for the safety of their loved ones on active service.

Lieutenant-Governor Hamber and Mrs. Hamber attended the morning service at Christ Church Cathedral, where Bishop H. E. Sexton conducted the service and led the congregation in prayer.

Presbyterians attended services at St. Andrew's Church, where Rev. J. L. McLean officiated.

At St. Andrew's Cathedral Bishop J. C. Cody conducted the devotions of Roman Catholics. The whole day was set aside for prayer and the bishop presided at all masses. Following High Mass the Blessed Sacrament was exposed during the rest of the day until the Holy Hour, from 7.30 to 8.30 p.m., conducted by Rev. Father J. A. Gaudette. The boys' choir was in attendance throughout the day and sang special music.

In addition to regular services, Baptists assembled at First Baptist Church for a special interdenominational service during the afternoon. The service was given over entirely to silent and audible prayer, with Rev. G. A. Reynolds presiding. Two portions of Scriptures were read by Rev. Henry Knox, Vancouver, and Adjutant Charles Watt of the Salvation Army. Rev. F. W. McKinnon, of Douglas Street Baptist Church, led in prayer. About 400 persons took part in this service.

Largest of the United Church services were held at Metropolitan and First United. They were conducted by Rev. A. E. Whitehouse and Rev. H. A. McLeod, respectively.

At all churches specially selected patriotic music was arranged for the day, and most services closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

The day of prayer followed special messages broadcast to the nation Saturday night by Cardinal Rodrigue Villeneuve of Quebec, Canada's only prince of the Roman Catholic Church, and Most Rev. Derwyn T. Owen of Toronto, Anglican primate of all Canada.

Cardinal Villeneuve said Christians in Canada were deeply grateful to the King for his public profession of faith in God. He added: "We specially, Catholics, will therefore address fervent prayer to the Lord God of Hosts that He may vouchsafe to hear our supplications and that the forces of evil may be overthrown and peace restored to a distracted world."

The Anglican primate, in his broadcast, appealed for prayer for "wisdom and right judgment among our leaders, that by God's mercy and guidance upon them all the forces which oppose them may be held back."

Rt. Rev. Stuart C. Parker, moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, said in a sermon at St. Andrew's Church at Toronto yesterday that the volunteer spirit was a vital strength of the Empire.

He warned against any government action which would have the effect of nullifying that motivating force.

In Roman Catholic Churches the special day of prayer coincided with the solemnity of the feast of Corpus Christi. Processions were held in some churches and where the weather permitted they were held outdoors.

B.C. SERVICES

Special open-air services were held in many British Columbia centres and at Vancouver, 9,000 persons attended a service in beautiful Stanley Park.

Prayers were recited also in Jewish Synagogues across the country. A special prayer written for the occasion was repeated by the congregations.

In an address Saturday before the Alberta United Church conference at Edmonton, Rev. John W. Woodside of Ottawa, moderator of the United Church of Canada, said the resources of the church will be made available for the defence of the Empire.

"It will take every material and spiritual resource we possess (to preserve civilization), and the sooner we make our fullest possible contribution the sooner the end (of the war) will come," he said. "This is the day and the hour."

WORK AND PRAY

LONDON (CP) — The chiming of hundreds of bells rose above the strange Sunday clatter of Great Britain's war-making machinery, calling the nation to prayer for an Allied victory against the German armies on the other side of the English Channel.

In Westminster Abbey, filled with memorials to men who had overcome other challenges to Britain's existence, King George led the prayer he had requested throughout the Empire. Queen Elizabeth and Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands accompanied him, and Prime Minister Churchill and many members of the cabinet and their wives were in the congregation.

"The centuries rebuke the fears and calm the anxieties of the hour," said the Archbishop of Canterbury. "Here in the stillness of this church, moved by all the memories which surround us, we commit ourselves and our cause to God."

It was in the ancient Abbey where many of Britain's Kings lie buried, and where the nation's Unknown Warrior of the first Great War lies entombed, that the Archbishop crowned King George three years ago.

ANNA NEAGLE AS QUEEN VICTORIA

Queen Victoria ascended the British throne at the age of 18, succeeding King William IV, who died June 20, 1837. Her death occurred January 22, 1901. She had the longest life and reign of any English sovereign. Autocratic, insistent on her rights in an increasingly democratic age, she became the world's most venerated monarch, the exemplar of an age of wealth, domesticity and success, the keystone of her own kingdom, the cynosure of others. Born May 24, 1819, she was in her 81st year when she passed away.

Intimate episodes of her career have been lavishly produced in Technicolor by Herbert Wilcox, co-starring Anna Neagle, with Anton Walbrook as Prince Albert, and now being shown at the Plaza Theatre.

PRISON DRAMA SCREENED HERE

"Invisible Stripes," a drama of after-prison life, based on a book by Lewis E. Lawes, is the feature presentation at the Atlas Theatre, starting today. George Raft, Jane Bryan and William Holden are starred, with Humphrey Bogart, Paul Kelly, Lee Patrick and Henry O'Neill heading the supporting cast.

Lewis E. Lawes has always championed the rights of one-time losers to return to good citizenship after learning their lesson behind prison walls, and it is this theme which underlies the stirring dramatic story of "Invisible Stripes."

Patterson Drops Canadian Final

CARDSTON, Alta. (CP) — Gerald Berthiaume made plans today to hurry back to classes at D'Arcy McGee High School in Montreal wearing the heavy-weight boxing title.

The 17-year-old Quebec champion won the crown here Saturday night in the closing bout of the Dominion amateur tourney by gaining an upset decision over Jack Patterson of Victoria, the odds-on favorite.

Patterson, representing the Canadian Scottish Regiment, appeared to be the winner by a small margin but the judges evidently decided foul blows he threw in the second and third rounds gave the edge to Berthiaume and the crowd of 1,000 cheered the decision.

ABSORBS BLOWS
The pudgy Quebec youngster who weighed the same as the British Columbia titlist—180½ pounds—but was six inches shorter than the six-foot Patterson, had no difficulty absorbing the punching that sent the Alberta champion, Bob Primrose of High River, to the canvas in 70 seconds Friday, the only knock-out of the tourney.

Given a bye into the final, Berthiaume never backed away from the coast champion and several times made Patterson back pedal from punching flurries.

His surprise victory was the feature of 11 rather dull bouts that saw three of the other seven open titles go to Vancouver, the same number to Alberta and one to Saskatchewan.

Other new champions follow: Light heavyweight—Alan Dunn, Vancouver. Middleweight—Buster Murdoch, Lethbridge, Alta. Welterweight—Frank Petroski, Regina. Lightweight—Webb Frizzell, Lacombe, Alta. Featherweight—Henry Devine, Vancouver. Bantamweight—Hugh Sloan, Cardston. Flyweight—Tadao Kato, Vancouver.

'SUED FOR LIBEL' MYSTERY PICTURE

Kent Taylor, noted young actor, and Linda Hayes, brilliant newcomer, comprise the new romantic team RKO Radio introduces in "Sued for Libel," newspaper murder mystery drama now at the Rio Theatre.

Taylor recently scored as the oldest son in "Three Sons" and as the co-pilot in "Five Came Back." Miss Hayes recently had important roles in "The Spellbinder" and "The Girl From Mexico."

Story of "Sued for Libel" revolves around the efforts of a news broadcaster to solve a triple murder mystery with the aid of a rival reporter.

COMEDY TEAM AT SEAT OF LEARNING

One of the most side-splitting and fun-filled comedies of the year was unveiled today at the Oak Bay Theatre when Hal Roach presented that inimitable pair of comics, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy in "A Chump at Oxford," released under the auspices of United Artists.

The new four-reeler presents sombre-faced Stan and rotund Oliver in a series of gay misadventures in England's most austere hall of learning, Oxford.

Especially funny and uproarious are the scenes wherein Laurel and Hardy are hoaxed into an interview with a bogus dean who assigns them to living quarters in the rooms of the real dean.

Richard Greene In Dominion Film

Filled to the final fadeout with glamorous romance and exciting drama, "I Was An Adventuress" brought beautiful Zorina and handsome Richard Greene together. The picture will open at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

But the entertainment appeal of "I Was An Adventuress" does not end with Zorina and Greene. While the engaging action of the picture pivots on their love for each other, there are many other absorbing facets to the story. A superb supporting cast, working under the direction of Gregory Ratoff, extracts the fullest measure of entertainment from each of these.

Sig Rumann plays with great conviction the part of a pompous German businessman who allows himself to be stunned by Zorina's charms, while Fritz Feld is magnificent as the industrialist who thought of turning a dishonest dollar before he thought of love.

Nunnally Johnson was associate producer for "I Was An Adventuress."

There's rhythm on the range and silver on the sage as Jack Benny rides the plains in search of high adventure and romance in the thundering sag of high jinx in the high sierras, "Buck Benny Rides Again," which is at the Capitol Theatre with all the majesty of a great epic of empire building minus the majesty and the empire but crammed with comedy and melody.

Veterans Rush To Home Guards

Military headquarters at Work Point has been literally inundated with applications of war veterans seeking to serve in the new home guard announced at Ottawa last week.

Brigadier C. V. Stockwell, D.O.C., said the staff is now completing arrangements for recruiting the guard and enlistments probably will start within 48 hours.

According to the details of the scheme sent out from Ottawa of ficers for the home guard, in addition to having seen service in the last war, must also be on the reserve of officers or the corps reserves of the active militia.

The district officers commanding have been instructed to select officers for the home guards and send the recommendations to the defence headquarters where appointments will be made.

The home guards will include a major in command of each company, a captain second in command and a subaltern for each platoon. In each military district a company of 250 will be recruited.

Selection of personnel will be made by the district officers commanding and the facilities offered by the local veterans' organizations will be used.

The medical standards for appointments and enlistment will be those of the Canadian Active Service Force with an age limit of 50, but with A, B and C categories acceptable.

Personnel will be medically examined, documented and attested through district depots or regional depots of the C.A.S.F. before concentration of the guards at the centres where they will take up their duties.

Each Veterans' Home Guard company will be administered as a self-contained unit and pay and allowances will be at C.A.S.F. rates, including the dependent allowances. Clothing and equipment will be issued as for the C.A.S.F. Recruits to be worn will be determined later.

According to official information given out in Ottawa, 8,848 enlisted in the Canadian Active Service Force in Military District 11, with headquarters at Victoria. This was up to May 11, and since then, say recruiting officials, there has been a spurt in enlistments brought about by the impact of the blitzkrieg on the continent. Men for special companies in the third Canadian division are now being particularly sought.

The enlistments in other western districts indicated 7,099 in the Winnipeg district, 4,718 at Regina and 6,011 at Calgary. These were included in a total of 92,630 enlisted throughout Canada, of whom 26,279 have gone overseas already.

Among the first of the veterans to report under the plan to register ex-soldiers for the Veterans Home Guard is Bob Mann, former 88th Fusiliers of Victoria, who has been a marine fireman in Vancouver for many years. Although he is registered for home guard duty, Bob, a Liverpool Irishman, is hoping to get overseas. "Let's have a go at Hitler and his mob of Huns," he said as he registered. "We stopped the Hun before and we can stop him again."

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government has interned only two women as enemy aliens since war started, and it was learned this afternoon there was little immediate prospect of the Dominion allowing Great Britain's lead by ordering detention of women aliens.

Internment officials here said there were only a couple of women among the 261 enemy aliens interned in Canada, and these two were not in internment camps, but detained in women's prisons.

There were many women among the 16,643 enemy aliens registered in Canada, however.

Continue Suit Against Bank

Action of Sou Yin Pan to recover from the Royal Bank of Canada $8,000 held in a joint account with her husband, Mar Leung, continued before Mr. Justice Robertson in the Supreme Court this morning.

Mar Leung, convicted teller of the bank, now serving a prison sentence, was in Victoria on a writ of habeas corpus secured by Frank Higgins, K.C. counsel for Mrs. Mar, but was not called this morning.

Mar Leung was brought here after the court last week denied Mr. Higgins' application to introduce evidence in the examination for discovery of Mr. Leung.

This morning Mr. Higgins said he did not propose calling the former bank clerk as a witness, but wished the plaintiff to be bound by Mr. Leung's evidence.

Mr. Leung had been held as a bank employee and Mr. Higgins thought the defence should call him.

Alfred Bull, K.C. counsel for the bank, said he would not call Mar Leung and he would not consent to his being called by the court. Mr. Higgins sought this latter course, but Mr. Justice Robertson said it would only be possible by consent of counsel.

Mr. Higgins renewed his application to introduce the examination on discovery, but was only permitted to ask in the first dozen questions and answers dealing with Mar Leung's position at the bank.

The case for the defence was opened after Mr. Bull said the credibility of Mrs. Mar's testimony and the ownership of the money in the joint account would be the principal issues of defence.

Walter Duncan, jeweller, testified he never had any dealings with Mrs. Mar in 1934 in which he paid over a cheque for $600 for the purchase of gold coins from her. Mrs. Mar previously testified she had sold the gold to a Government Street jeweller and he had accompanied her to the bank to cash the cheque which he gave her for it.

A. D. Ross, manager of the Douglas Street branch of the Royal Bank, where Mar Leung was employed and the money was on deposit, took the stand before the luncheon adjournment.

Thousands of Victorians walking along Marine Drive early yesterday afternoon were impressed by the clear view of the Olympic Mountains, usually seen from here through a slight haze.

Mount Rainier in Washington, approximately 128 miles away, was clearly visible, while Mount Baker, at a distance of 73 miles, and The Lions, north of Vancouver, a distance of about 72 miles, were unusually clear during the afternoon.

Officials at the Dominion Meteorological Station at Gonzales said there was nothing unusual about the weather. They reported a mass of cold air coming from the north over the land, might have been responsible for the occurrence. Low moisture content prevented a haze. Smoke was seen at higher levels in some places.

Fines totaling $117.50 were imposed by Magistrate C. Hall in City Police Court this morning. Constable George Claydars testified that a prowler car speeding at 70 miles an hour could not catch up with a Chinese, Herbert Kwan, driving on Quadra Street on May 19. Kwan was fined $40. Another motorist, Ross Henson, who jumped a couple of stop signs at a dangerous rate of speed, was fined $30.

Five motorists paid $30 each for parking over the hour, one the same for night parking. A plea of guilty was entered by a man charged with being intoxicated in a public place. It was his first offence. He was fined $25. For speeding through a school zone, a motorist was fined $10.

SPORTS MIRROR

Sooner or later some Boston Red Sox outfielder will stub a toe on how a tendon and Dominic DiMaggio will have a chance to show that he's more than Joe's little brother. He can play ball, too.
Paul Derringer and Bucky Walters won 52 games for the Cincinnati Reds between them last year. The verdict of the experts was that they would not do it again this season. Well, maybe not, but from the way Walters started out this season it looked as though he meant to win that number all by himself.
If a man had to pick the win- ning pitcher in a game this sea- son, in a hurry, the vote here would be for a Feller in an Indian suit.

West's Defeat Nine-man City

Playing manager Tommy Res- tell's Victoria West soccer men advanced into the local final of the Dominion Cup campaign, sym- bol of the Canadian roundball championship, against Victoria United on Saturday when they disposed of Charley Lewis' Victoria City by a 4 to 2 verdict at Beacon Hill Park.

It is probable the final will be played next Saturday.

Manager Lewis was only able to field nine men for this engage- ment. In fact he only had eight at the outset, as referee Scotty Dowds made Harry Barber leave the field and don a uniform. He came on in long pants and Dowds forbade him to return until he was properly garbed, which was a ruling that surprised the fans.

Being short-handed, the City team's game was chiefly a de- fensive one, and they made a pretty good job of it, breaking up many attacks.

The Wests trotted out a line-up which included three players who had transferred from the City: Robinson, Leggett and Lorandini, and pretty well dominated play throughout the game. With the wind in their faces they had a hard time of it getting goals in the first half, the score being 1 to 0 in their favor at the breather. Kicking with the wind in the final session they made better headway.

on the scoreboard, tapping in a trio of tallies, goalie Norm Sewardson stopping others.

The game was 43 minutes old before Wests made their first im- pression in the score column, Jack Ockell notching to conclude a nice passing movement in which Rob- inson and Williams participated.

Early in second-half play Louie McCormick crashed the scoreboard for City, but 12 minutes later Dallimore tricked his way past the defence and beat Stewardson easily to make it 2 to 1 for Wests. Later in the game Williams' goal for Wests was disallowed due to an offside, but Roy Ockell came through for them with a nice goal not long after. Lorandini wound up the scoring for the green- shirts when he sank a dynamite shot, and just seconds before the breather McCormick bagged City's only other marker on a penalty kick.

Craig Wood Has 264 for 72 Holes

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP)—Craig Wood, veteran Mamaroneck, N.Y., professional, won the metropolitan open golf championship at Forest Hill Country Club yesterday with the astounding 72-hole total of 264 strokes. Wood, runner-up in the 1939 open championship, shot successive rounds of 64-66-68-66.

The total was believed to have established a world record for four rounds of major tournament play over a full-length course. The only better total recorded by the golfer's handbook, a British publication which attempts to record up world-wide statistics, was a 262 made by Percy Alliss in winning the 1935 Italian open.

Lauds Veterans For Inspiration

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadians must do all in their power "to see that this war is won for Canada and won for the British Em- pire," Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Min- ister of Pensions and National Health, said today in an address at the opening of the Canadian Legion's eighth Dominion conven- tion.

"Canada must give all—if all is required—in the struggle for civilization," the minister said to the cheers of nearly 70 delegates.

Mr. Mackenzie added that "Can- ada and the Commonwealth will not go down but will surely triumph in the battle that lies ahead."

He said the old soldiers of the first Great War volunteered their services to the last man, and also had given leadership, inspiration and enthusiasm to the whole country.

The government was "cease- lessly" seeking new measures to be attempted, new and better ways of pressing forward "the undertakings already in hand."

With regard to Canada's war preparations, Mr. Mackenzie said altogether the country has 80,000 soldiers under arms—100,000 men on active service in navy, army and air force combined. Aug- mentation of these forces is being proceeded with "as rapidly as ac- commodation and equipment— especially equipment—can be procured."

TO FIGHT FIFTH COLUMN

Of "fifth column" activities, the minister said the Royal Canadian Mounted Police have been aug- mented and strengthened "to an extent little realized, for the purpose of internal security."

He appealed to the Legion "as a disciplined body of loyal ex- service men, to remember that the authority of government must never pass to extraneous or- ganizations, no matter how well-motivated they may be."

The minister said that of 40,000 officers and men required for ad- ministration and maintenance of the war training scheme, approx- imately 10,000 will be civilians. Every effort was being made to use ex-service men, as far as these could be found with the necessary qualifications.

The convention was advised by Brig. W. W. Foster of Vancouver, Legion Dominion president, that the newly-appointed Minister for Air, Hon. C. G. Power, had been unable to leave Ottawa to attend the sessions. A telegram from the Air Minister was read to the convention.

It said, in part: "May I in- stantly commend you as aux- iliaries to a comrade in a difficult job. I want ideas, counsel and criticism."

"There are dark days about us; worse may be ahead; defeat is a word not known in the British language; despair is a word we should black out of our vo- cabulary for the duration."

John H. Blackmore, House leader of the Social Credit Party, said that "the all-important thing for us now is to win the war." He referred to the "unprovoked ag- gression on the part of a would-be world conqueror," and said that the peoples of the Allied nations "must with reverence approach God and we shall receive his aid."

Satko's 'Ark' At Nanaimo

NANAIMO (CP)—The Alaska-bound Satko, a family of nine in intent on finding a new home in the north, today took a rest from the hazards of sailing and moored their cumbersome, home-built "Ark" at a dock in this east coast of Vancouver Island city.

Paul Satko, unemployed Richmond, Va., machinist who with his wife and seven children sailed out of Anacortes, Wash., Saturday morning, said they planned to remain here until they could obtain fresh supplies at Nanaimo stores. The crowded Ark arrived at 2:05 Sunday afternoon.

After slipping out of Anacortes, the vessel Satko built himself bucked adverse winds and tides across Rosario Strait and finally put in for the night at Montagu Harbor, 18 miles south of here in the Gulf Islands.

Satko left Anacortes despite a court order issued by a King County (Seattle) juvenile court forbidding him from taking his six minor children aboard the craft until certain improvements had been made to insure its seaworthiness and sanitation. However, his clearance papers were in order and local authorities said they planned no action to prevent his continuing northward.

Curious strollers visited the dock to examine the craft, which has been in the news since Satko first attempted to sail from Tacoma, April 21. His first attempt ended after a string of minor accidents which culminated in the court order.

The visitors found both Mr. and Mrs. Satko and their children cheerful after their 36 hours afloat. They were admittedly crowded, but said they were "getting along all right."

Satko was not sure where his next stop would be. He said he planned to continue northwards "by easy stages."

In entering Nanaimo he was accorded the usual "cruiser privileges" given United States craft in Canadian waters if they have cleared customs at their point of departure.

Beulah Returns, Will Load Here

Renewing her acquaintance with Victoria after a memorable voyage across the Pacific, Mrs. Beulah, the Panamanian-flag vessel which two and a half years ago sank alongside the Ogden Point docks here and was raised by the Pacific Salvage Company after being submerged several months, will return here next week to load lumber and other cargo for the Antipodes.

She will take on cargo here at the Canadian National docks, within a few yards of the spot where she foundered December 27, 1937, after limping into port gale-battered and carrying a 26-degree list to port.

The Beulah, laden with rice from Rangoon, reached New Westminster on Saturday, after an eventful voyage. The vessel is commanded by Capt. E. S. Wilkie. Her crew, which started out 100 per cent Canadian, is now about half American. The latter will probably be replaced before the ship again puts to sea.

Rebuilt and re-engineered after lying idle here for a long period, the Beulah, operated by the Westport Shipping Company, sailed from Vancouver last December for Rangoon.

She experienced trouble at Tacoma, where labor unions objected to her presence, fearing she might be blown up at her berth. Some of the members of crew quit and the port authorities hurried her departure.

The missing members of the crew were replaced by men across the border and the vessel put to sea.

She was next reported in January of this year when she put into San Francisco for repairs. Heavy gales experienced off-shore smashed the fastenings of the ship's huge donkey boiler and sent the mass of steel drift on to deck, forcing Capt. Wilkie to put into the Golden Gate.

More seamen quit the vessel at San Francisco and their places were filled there by Americans.

Finally departing from the California port January 14, the Beulah escaped further trouble and passed Manila, Philippine Islands, February 25, and proceeded to her destination, Rangoon, where she discharged her B.C. cargo and loaded a full cargo of rice for the homeward voyage.

Wheat

WINNIPEG (CP)—Absence of support combined with minor liquidation to clip more than a cent from wheat futures prices during a drab session on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today.

Operations were the duller for some time and at the close quotations were 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 cents lower, May at 73 1/2, July 74 1/2 and October 77 1/2.

Mills were credited with scattered purchases on the decline, but export houses remained out of the pit and no overseas sales of Canadian wheat were reported.

Apart from light mill purchasing in No. 4 special at unchanged price spreads, cash wheat dealings were unimportant. Coarse grain prices slipped to lower levels in stagnant trading.

World wheat shipments totaled 10,832,000 bushels last week, compared with 12,208,000 the previous week and 17,669,000 during the corresponding period a year ago.

North America's share of the total was 6,378,000 bushels last week, 4,876,000 the preceding week and 7,916,000 bushels last year.

Western Canada farmers delivered 183,000 bushels of wheat to country elevators Saturday against 226,000 unloaded on the same day in 1939.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

GARGOYLE INDUSTRIAL LUBRICANTS, used widely throughout all branches of industry, are manufactured by the makers of Mobiloil.

Clean, Tough and Good Protection

● Actually, Mobiloil is washed clean when it's made. Carbon-forming, sludge-forming impurities are dissolved and flushed away. And after the numerous processes of refining, dewaxing and filtering, all that's left is tough, clean, long-lasting Mobiloil. It gives positive protection, keeps bearing parts of your engine covered with its tough, oily film.

Use this safe, long-lasting oil this summer. Use the oil that resists heat and pressure; that guards against carbon, sludge and oil drag; that gives balanced protection. That oil is Mobiloil. Fill up today.

tory must be so complete that never again in history will any dictator be able to rise up to invade the free and peace-loving nations."

Col. Ross Napier, heartily cheered by the veterans when he rose to second the resolution, said he was sure everyone had it in his heart to do something, no matter how small it might be, in the common cause.

"There has been a feeling, whether justified or not, that there has been a lack of co-ordination somewhere in our war effort. We know, for instance, that many of those who tried to enlist last September were turned away because they were not needed."

"I agree it would have been a handicap to send large numbers of men to the Old Country, where they had at that time all the men that were necessary. But I do not agree we should wait for the time when more men are needed and then start recruiting them. Soldiers are not made in a day. Nor do they come down from heaven—unless by way of an enemy parachute."

ENORMOUS POWER

The feeling simply was that the government should harness the enormous latent power of Canada and throw it unquestionably beside the Allies until victory was won, he said.

"For that we will have ultimate victory—dark as things may seem sometimes—I have not the slightest doubt," he said. "I can remember those dark days in the fall of 1915 when our artillery was rationed to three shells per gun per day. With practically nothing but rifle and bayonet we held the Hun. And we'll hold him again. Never through all of that last war did I ever meet a man who contemplated anything but ultimate victory."

"It will not be easy. As Winston Churchill has told us it can only be won through blood, sweat and tears. But remember, if the enemy should win he will not leave you with eyes to weep."

HITS LINDBERGH

Dealing with the need for anti-fifth column action, Col. Napier sarcastically criticized Col. Charles Lindbergh for his assertions Canada should not be permitted to take part in a European war in case she involved other North American countries.

"I have no claim to flying the Atlantic. Nor do I wear a German decoration on my breast," said Col. Napier. "I admire such men, for instance as Wrongway Corrigan, for following the brilliant trail blazed by Alcock and Brown. I admire him more because, in the light of his feat, he does not try to tell Canada where to get off at. I can't say I think so much of the discretion of Hon. Col. Lindbergh. Let us in Victoria tell Col. Lindbergh that Canada takes the whip of no nation."

"The time will come when all parts of the American continent will be grateful that there was one free nation on the continent that took the path of the Samaritans and went to help those nations in Europe being crushed by the Frankenstein monster that is the offspring of a paranoiac's nightmare."

Capt. Elmore Philpott, the final speaker, said Hitler must be stopped by the flesh and blood and living sacrifice of a free people of a free nation.

"You can't win wars by sending up cheers in the park," he said. "You've got to pay the price and its awful price."

To the younger generation he

the Frankenstein monster that is the offspring of a paranoiac's nightmare."

Capt. Elmore Philpott, the final speaker, said Hitler must be stopped by the flesh and blood and living sacrifice of a free people of a free nation.

"You can't win wars by sending up cheers in the park," he said. "You've got to pay the price and its awful price."

To the younger generation he would say that their fathers bearing the last war's medals were not heroes.

NOT HEROES, BUT STOOD TEST

"I met no heroes in the last war. I met no one who wanted to die," he said. "But I do know that when the test came we stood up to it. The younger generation must do it again, for if we went down in this struggle—the dark ages that followed the collapse of the Roman Empire would be broad daylight compared to the misery that would come over the world."

He said if France and England were beaten Canada would become the next battlefield within two years.

"I do not want to sound like a scaremonger. But in my first public speech here two years ago I told you this war would come. Was I right then? Well, I'm telling you again. We in Canada are fighting for life itself."

"Every man, woman and child must be ready to do whatever there was to do."

"If there is anyone here who thinks he or she is doing everything they can right now just put up your hand and I'll show you the most awful liar," he said. "We must fight this war everywhere—at the front, in factories, on the farm and in the rear."

One of the biggest battles was against the fifth column, he said, adding that Canada had an efficient secret service and one day the fifth columnists would be surprised to find that Canada was not quite so stupid as they thought.

ADVISE THE POLICE

But he advised anyone hearing anything he thought to be of dangerous character to immediately get in touch with the R.C.M.P. instead of just repeating it to friends.

"And don't start throwing rocks yet. Don't go busting things up. That would be just what Hitler, Mr. Goebbels, Mr. Goering and their pals would like you to do. Don't do such silly and stupid things as throwing rocks at the Lutheran Church."

Capt. Philpott said that on the Empire's day of prayer the people should plead to God for forgiveness that they had been so blind to the Nazi menace, that they had been so deaf as not to listen to men like Churchill who had warned them, and so dumb that they had fed raw meat to the wild beast of Nazism.

The British Empire would win, he said, because it had followed the ways of the Almighty more closely than any other organization that had preceded it.

"Hitler may take Paris. He may put troops in England. But if he does he'll rue the day he ever set foot in the tight little isle. He may kill the people of England in the millions, but he'll never kill the soul of England. She would rise up greater than ever. We can no more lose this war than you can black out the sun that is above us."

9,000 IN VANCOUVER

VANCOUVER (CP)—Nine thousand persons gathered with representatives of various veterans' organizations in Stanley Park yesterday to offer prayers for the allied cause and give unanimous endorsement to a 14-point resolution calling for a speed-up in Canada's war effort.

Brigadier J. A. Clark read the resolution, passed last Thursday by a veterans' meeting representing 6,000 ex-service men and dispatched to Ottawa.

Cheering drowned out Brigadier Clark's voice when he referred to two main points of the resolutions—the recruiting of seven additional divisions, and the internment of all European aliens of every origin.

General Clark said the resolutions were designed to show the Dominion Government that "we are ready to the last man—to serve in whatever capacity we can best serve."

"Every Canadian," he said, "must be ready to remedy the state of unpreparedness in which we now find ourselves. Canada has one-quarter of the population of Britain, but we have called up but 1.45th of the number of men called up in Britain."

The resolutions also urged the government to: Register every man and woman in Canada. Dispatch overseas immediately the second division. Recruit at once a third division.

Release present militia men on guard duty for service in the Canadian Active Service Force, and replace the guards with veterans of nonactive service categories.

Use to the maximum the economic and industrial resources of Canada to produce tanks, mechanized equipment, armored cars, airplanes, arms and munitions.

Give boys of 17 or more training for physical fitness.

Follow Britain's example in taking over for the state all manpower, wealth and industry for the duration of the war.

Assign to every industrial plant its war task and allot to every workman the job he can do best.
